NOTES ON NEWS OF THE DAY.

SECRETARY BAYARD has accepted Bismarck's proposition for a resumption at Berlin of the conference begun in Washington in 1887 in regard to Samoa. The Chancellor will hardly have time to outwit our Premier as England has done, because in four weeks another statesman will be in charge of the American side of the conference.

MR. CLEVELAND and wife spent yesterday in New York, returning to Washington on the midnight train. Aside from the purchase of some dresses and bonnets for Mrs. Cleveland, the nature of their errand was not known. The President avoided reporters and statesmen, and conducted himself like any other gentleman who is thinking of going out of politics.

THE latest Cabinet surmise is that Hon. Wm. Windom is to be made Secretary of the Treasury and credited to New York. Mr. Windom removed to New York city on his retirement from the Senate in 1883. It is predicted that Gen. Harrison will take this course to solve the New York problem, thus satisfying the party in this state and getting a man of Western antecedents and training at the same time.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND and Gov. Hill held no conversation together at the Whitney dinner in Washington last Tuesday. They formally recognized each other and that was all. In the evening Whitney gave a brilliant reception to the Governor, but Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland neither came nor sent their regrets. They left for New York while Hill was still in the city, and found our state under the mild control of acting Governor Jones.

THE Democratic New Jersey Legislature has decided by caucus not to repeal the local option bill. A new bill is to be framed and introduced which will repeal the entire law and re-enact the high license part, but it is not expected to pass. The New Jersey Democrats have been learning something about public sentiment and feeling on the matter since they proposed to abolish the aw.

WHEN Princess Stephanie was wedded to the late Crown Prince Rudolf of Austria, she was described as the most beautiful Princess in Europe. But now in her widowhood Labouchere describes her as "wholly uninteresting and anything but pretty." He thinks that "if she had been a chambermaid in a hotel nobody would have noticed her, so commonplace was her physiognomy." Alas! the "beautiful" princess has nobody to defend her now.

LIEUT. GOV. JONES stated his plan of employing convict labor at the meeting of the Patrons of Husbandry in Syracuse yesterday. He would pay the prisoners full wages for their labor, and after deducting a fair price for board, clothing, medical attendance, etc., apply the rest of their earnings to their credit or the support of their families. This would make each prison a big boarding house for workingmen. And it might also tempt many who cannot find honest work to get into prison.

THE Washington correspondent of the Boston Globe says Mr. Cleveland, during his four years at Washington, has not entered more than two residences in that city outside of the Cabinet circle, has never seen Congress at work, and has never entered a Department building. He has never walked Pennsylvania avenue like Grant, or taken a drink across a Washington bar like Buchanan. There has now and then been an entire week when he has not once put on his hat and gone out of doors. All he knows about Washington and its ways he has heard.

THE strike of the Brooklyn street railroad men collapsed yesterday. President Richardson refused to re-employ any of the strikers except upon signing an agreement to abandon the Knights of Labor and to keep clear from every labor organization, and even then they were given to understand that none of the men who had been employed during the strike would be discharged to make places for them. These rather severe terms were gladly accepted. Your brave, defiant striker has the appearance of a very humble individual when crawling out of the little end of the horn.

THE Albany Argus is so mad over the Democratic defeat that it growls about the excess of corruption in the country districts and asserts that "at the fall election the farmers in many parts of the state were bought up like a flock of sheep." As the farmers are and always have been the backbone of the Republican party, and as that party won at the last election, this is an infamous lie. The truth is that the farmers could not be bought, though one of our leading Democratic authorities has borne testimony that the price of votes (Democratic) suddenly went up from $1 to $25 a head.

To show the inequality of Legislative representation and the need of a new enumeration and apportionment, Democratic newspapers are pointing to the votes in Putnam county and the 23d district of New York. Putnam cast 3,687 and the New York district 24,315 votes for Assembly at the late election. Of course the smallness of the Putnam vote is not due to the failure to apportion the state, for Putnam is a county, and as such is entitled to a member under the constitution. But there are other inequalties for which there is no excuse in the constitution. Thus the fifth district of Kings county cast 4,809 votes while the eleventh district of the same county cast 24,833. These districts were apportioned by a Democratic Board of Supervisors. The small one is Democratic and the large one Republican. In New York where the 23d district cast the large vote complained of, the eleventh cast only 7,147. These districts were apportioned by a Democratic Board of Aldermen. The average vote of the New York Assembly districts was 10,950. This can hardly be called excessive, for Allegany county cast 12,031, Broome 15,539, Chemung 11,866, Delaware 12,549, Herkimer 12,484, Madison 12,311, Montgomery 12,170, Ontario 12,687, and Suffolk 14,216. These counties elect a single member each. In Onondaga the average per district is 11,391, in Oneida 9,380, in Dutchess 9,972, in Erie 12,859, in Albany 9,995, in Monroe 12,311, in Orange 11,314, in Oswego 9,518, in Queens 11,821, and in Westchester 9,755. There does not really appear in these figures any startling inequality under the present apportionment except in the smaller counties, which would remain entitled to a member under the constitution even if they cast but a single vote.

IMPORTANT BUSINESS IN ASSEMBLY.

The Recent Strike in New-York City—A New Excise Bill Introduced.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

ALBANY, Feb. 7.—In the Assembly, to-day, Longley offered resolutions relating to the horse railroad strikes in New-York and Brooklyn and requiring the Judiciary Committee to consider and determine whether it would be expedient to invest the State Board of Railroad Commissioners or State Board of Arbitration with sufficient powers and authority to intervene of their own motion between street railroad companies and their employes, between whom disputes or controversies may arise that shall threaten the suspension or interruption of travel, and summarily settle the same. In case the Commission shall determine this question negatively, they are instructed to formulate and present such a bill as will, in their judgment, prevent a recurrence of the troubles referred to. The resolution was referred to the Committee on Railroads.

THE STATE PRISONS.

Crosby called up his resolution directing the Superintendent of State Prisons to report within 10 days the effect of the legislation of July, 1888, on the mental, and physical condition of prisoners in the State Prisons and including also a statement from the warden of each State Prison. Yates offered an amendment, which was adopted, requiring information as to the manner in which the law has been carried into effect and to what extent prisoners have been employed; also what clothing and necessary supplies have been furnished to the several State institutions and the manner in which such clothing and supplies have been manufactured. Crosby also offered an amendment, which was adopted, requiring the State Prison Superintendent to report also the proportion of prisoners in his charge who are or can be supplied with work under existing law. The resolution was adopted as amended.

GENERAL CURTIS' HIGH LICENSE BILL.

General Curtis introduced his high license bill, to day with the statement that he prepared it without the assistance of or suggestion from any one.

FORTY-TWO SECTIONS.

The bill comprises 42 sections. The bill is based on the law of 1857, [Chapter 628] and upon subsequent amendments and the bill of the Excise Commission. The first section is partly similar to the same section of the Commissions bill and partly new. It prohibits giving away liquor in places of public resort. Section 2 of the Curtis bill is Section 1 of the Law of 1857 with some amendments and provides that on the second Tuesday of April next three Excise Commissioners shall be appointed by the County Judge and two Justices of the Sessions or a majority of them, of which the County Judge shall be one in each of the counties of the State—except the County of New-York wherein the Chief Justice of the Superior Court and the presiding Judge of the Court of Common Pleas and the Recorder of the City, or any two of them, shall appoint. The First Commissioner shall hold office until January 1, 1891, the second two years longer, and the third until January 1, 1895. The other Commissioners are to be appointed in turn to fill these vacancies.

CLUBS AS SALOONS.

Clubs throughout the bill are regarded as soloons, as also are liquor-selling eating houses. The salaries of the Commissioners are as follows: In counties of over 800,000 inhabitants $5,000 per annum; less than 800,000 or more than 400,000, $2,500. All other counties $5 per day for actual services.

LICENSE TO EVERY 500 INHABITANTS.

After the passage of the bill no licenses shall be issued in excess of one to every 500 inhabitants. Section 13 fixes the fee for licenses as follows: For full liquor license in cities of 100,000 or more inhabitants, $500; in cities of less than 100,000 inhabitants $250; in villages and towns, $125. Wine, ale, beer, licenses to saloon keepers, are, in cities of 100,000 or more inhabitants, $300; in smaller cities, $200; in towns and villages, $100. Store-keepers' licenses, allowing sales of liquors when not to be drunk on the premises and in unbroken packages only, are $250, $150 and $75 respectively. Druggists' licenses, permitting the sale of liquor on a physician's certificate, are $25. Other druggists are licensed as store-keepers. Eating house licenses and eating houses must be such in the spirit of the term are licensed at $300, $200 and $100 respectively, according to the size of cities as classified above. Hotels must have, in cities of 50,000 or more inhabitants, at least 15 bedrooms; in small places at least 10.

OTHER SECTIONS.

Section 14 increases the penalties for violations to $100 for each offense. Section 15 increases the penalties for giving or selling liquor to prohibited persons to $75 for each offense. Section 18 makes the penalty for selling or giving liquor to any intoxicated person $25. Section 21 limits the time when liquor cannot be sold. Section 40 repeals all existing excise laws. The date when the law is to take effect is left blank.

A TERRIBLE DISASTER REPORTED.

Many Lives Lost—A Large Ship Goes to the Bottom.

By Cable to The Freeman.

LONDON, Feb. 7.—It has been ascertained beyond a doubt that the steamer which was sunk in collision with the British bark Largo Bay, off Beachy Head, Monday night, was the Glencoe. It was bound from Liverpool for London, and carried a crew of 54 men, all of whom were doubtless drowned.

THE GLENCOE.

The Glencoe was a three-masted iron screw steamer of 1,901 tons. It was built at Glasgow in 1878, and was rated 100 A 1.

A TERRIBLE CRASH.

The force of the collision was so great that the fore-mast of the Largo Bay was jerked out and fell across its deck-house, crushing it.

A TEMPEST WAS RAGING.

A wild tempest was raging and snow was falling so thickly that it was impossible for the look-out on either vessels to see the lights of the other until the collision was inevitable. The Glencoe forged ahead, trying to cross the Largo Bay's bow, but failed to do so and ran at full speed into the bark, demolishing 10 feet of its bow. The Largo Bay would also have sunk had it not been provided with water-tight sections. The suddenness of the shock dazed the crew of the bark.

STRUGGLING IN THE WATER.

They saw nothing further of the steamer, but could make out its crew struggling in the water. It was impossible, however, to render them any assistance, all of the Largo Bay's boats being smashed. The wind blew with such force that the sails of the bark were torn to shreds, and a boy was carried overboard. The bark weathered the storm until it was rescued and towed into Cowes.

NOTES ON NEWS OF THE DAY.

SECRETARY BAYARD has accepted Bismarck's proposition for a resumption at Berlin of the conference begun in Washington in 1887 in regard to Samoa. The Chancellor will hardly have time to outwit our Premier as England has done, because in four weeks another statesman will be in charge of the American side of the conference.

MR. CLEVELAND and wife spent yesterday in New York, returning to Washington on the midnight train. Aside from the purchase of some dresses and bonnets for Mrs. Cleveland, the nature of their errand was not known. The President avoided reporters and statesmen, and conducted himself like any other gentleman who is thinking of going out of politics.

THE latest Cabinet surmise is that Hon. Wm. Windom is to be made Secretary of the Treasury and credited to New York. Mr. Windom removed to New York city on his retirement from the Senate in 1883. It is predicted that Gen. Harrison will take this course to solve the New York problem, thus satisfying the party in this state and getting a man of Western antecedents and training at the same time.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND and Gov. Hill held no conversation together at the Whitney dinner in Washington last Tuesday. They formally recognized each other and that was all. In the evening Whitney gave a brilliant reception to the Governor, but Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland neither came nor sent their regrets. They left for New York while Hill was still in the city, and found our state under the mild control of acting Governor Jones.

THE Democratic New Jersey Legislature has decided by caucus not to repeal the local option bill. A new bill is to be framed and introduced which will repeal the entire law and re-enact the high license part, but it is not expected to pass. The New Jersey Democrats have been learning something about public sentiment and feeling on the matter since they proposed to abolish the law.

WHEN Princess Stephanie was wedded to the late Crown Prince Rudolf of Austria, she was described as the most beautiful Princess in Europe. But now in her widowhood Labouchere describes her as "wholly uninteresting and anything but pretty." He thinks that "if she had been a chambermaid in a hotel nobody would have noticed her, so commonplace was her physiognomy." Alas! the "beautiful" princess has nobody to defend her now.

LIEUT. GOV. JONES stated his plan of employing convict labor at the meeting of the Patrons of Husbandry in Syracuse yesterday. He would pay the prisoners full wages for their labor, and after deducting a fair price for board, clothing, medical attendance, etc., apply the rest of their earnings to their credit or the support of their families. This would make each prison a big boarding house for workingmen. And it might also tempt many who cannot find honest work to get into prison.

THE Washington correspondent of the Boston Globe says Mr. Cleveland, during his four years at Washington, has not entered more than two residences in that city outside of the Cabinet circle, has never seen Congress at work, and has never entered a Department building. He has never walked Pennsylvania avenue like Grant, or taken a drink across a Washington bar like Buchanan. There has now and then been an entire week when he has not once put on his hat and gone out of doors. All he knows about Washington and its ways he has heard.

THE strike of the Brooklyn street railroad men collapsed yesterday. President Richardson refused to re-employ any of the strikers except upon signing an agreement to abandon the Knights of Labor and to keep clear from every labor organization, and even then they were given to understand that none of the men who had been employed during the strike would be discharged to make places for them. These rather severe terms were gladly accepted. Your brave, defiant striker has the appearance of a very humble individual when crawling out of the little end of the horn.

THE Albany Argus is so mad over the Democratic defeat that it growls about the excess of corruption in the country districts and asserts that "at the fall election the farmers in many parts of the state were bought up like a flock of sheep." As the farmers are and always have been the backbone of the Republican party, and as that party won at the last election, this is an infamous lie. The truth is that the farmers could not be bought, though one of our leading Democratic authorities has borne testimony that the price of votes (Democratic) suddenly went up from $1 to $25 a head.

To show the inequality of Legislative representation and the need of a new enumeration and apportionment, Democratic newspapers are pointing to the votes in Putnam county and the 23d district of New York. Putnam cast 3,687 and the New York district 24,315 votes for Assembly at the late election. Of course the smallness of the Putnam vote is not due to the failure to apportion the state, for Putnam is a county, and as such is entitled to a member under the constitution. But there are other inequalities for which there is no excuse in the constitution. Thus the fifth district of Kings county cast 4,809 votes while the eleventh district of the same county cast 24,833. These districts were apportioned by a Democratic Board of Supervisors. The small one is Democratic and the large one Republican. In New York where the 23d district cast the large vote complained of, the eleventh cast only 7,147. These districts were apportioned by a Democratic Board of Aldermen. The average vote of the New York Assembly districts was 10,950. This can hardly be called excessive, for Allegany county cast 12,031, Broome 15,539, Chemung 11,866, Delaware 12,549, Herkimer 12,484, Madison 12,311, Montgomery 12,170, Ontario 12,687, and Suffolk 14,216. These counties elect a single member each. In Onondaga the average per district is 11,391, in Oneida 9,380, in Dutchess 9,972, in Erie 12,859, in Albany 9,993, in Monroe 12,311, in Orange 11,314, in Oswego 9,518, in Queens 11,821, and in Westchester 9,755. There does not really appear in these figures any startling inequality under the present apportionment except in the smaller counties, which would remain entitled to a member under the constitution even if they cast but a single vote.

IMPORTANT BUSINESS IN ASSEMBLY.

The Recent Strike in New-York City—A New Excise Bill Introduced.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

ALBANY, Feb. 7.—In the Assembly, to-day, Longley offered resolutions relating to the horse railroad strikes in New-York and Brooklyn and requiring the Judiciary Committee to consider and determine whether it would be expedient to invest the State Board of Railroad Commissioners or State Board of Arbitration with sufficient powers and authority to intervene of their own motion between street railroad companies and their employes, between whom disputes or controversies may arise that shall threaten the suspension or interruption of travel, and summarily settle the same. In case the Commission shall determine this question negatively, they are instructed to formulate and present such a bill as will, in their judgment, prevent a recurrence of the troubles referred to. The resolution was referred to the Committee on Railroads.

THE STATE PRISONS.

Crosby called up his resolution directing the Superintendent of State Prisons to report within 10 days the effect of the legislation of July, 1888, on the mental, and physical condition of prisoners in the State Prisons and including also a statement from the warden of each State Prison. Yates offered an amendment, which was adopted, requiring information as to the manner in which the law has been carried into effect and to what extent prisoners have been employed; also what clothing and necessary supplies have been furnished to the several State institutions and the manner in which such clothing and supplies have been manufactured. Crosby also offered an amendment, which was adopted, requiring the State Prison Superintendent to report also the proportion of prisoners in his charge who are or can be supplied with work under existing law. The resolution was adopted as amended.

GENERAL CURTIS' HIGH LICENSE BILL.

General Curtis introduced his high license bill, to day with the statement that he prepared it without the assistance of or suggestion from any one.

FORTY-TWO SECTIONS.

The bill comprises 42 sections. The bill is based on the law of 1857, [Chapter 628] and upon subsequent amendments and the bill of the Excise Commission. The first section is partly similar to the same section of the Commissions bill and partly new. It prohibits giving away liquor in places of public resort. Section 2 of the Curtis bill is Section 1 of the Law of 1857 with some amendments and provides that on the second Tuesday of April next three Excise Commissioners shall be appointed by the County Judge and two Justices of the Sessions or a majority of them, of which the County Judge shall be one in each of the counties of the State—except the County of New-York wherein the Chief Justice of the Superior Court and the presiding Judge of the Court of Common Pleas and the Recorder of the City, or any two of them, shall appoint. The First Commissioner shall hold office until January 1, 1891, the second two years longer, and the third until January 1, 1895. The other Commissioners are to be appointed in turn to fill these vacancies.

CLUBS AS SALOONS.

Clubs throughout the bill are regarded as soloons, as also are liquor-selling eating houses. The salaries of the Commissioners are as follows: In counties of over 800,000 inhabitants $5,000 per annum; less than 800,000 or more than 400,000, $2,500. All other counties $5 per day for actual services.

LICENSE TO EVERY 500 INHABITANTS.

After the passage of the bill no licenses shall be issued in excess of one to every 500 inhabitants. Section 13 fixes the fee for licenses as follows: For full liquor license in cities of 100,000 or more inhabitants, $500; in cities of less than 100,000 inhabitants $250; in villages and towns, $125. Wine, ale, beer, licenses to saloon keepers, are, in cities of 100,000 or more inhabitants, $300; in smaller cities, $200; in towns and villages, $100. Store-keepers' licenses, allowing sales of liquors when not to be drunk on the premises and in unbroken packages only, are $250, $150 and $75 respectively. Druggists' licenses, permitting the sale of liquor on a physician's certificate, are $25. Other druggists are licensed as store-keepers. Eating house licenses and eating houses must be such in the spirit of the term are licensed at $300, $200 and $100 respectively, according to the size of cities as classified above. Hotels must have, in cities of 50,000 or more inhabitants, at least 15 bedrooms; in small places at least 10.

OTHER SECTIONS.

Section 14 increases the penalties for violations to $100 for each offense. Section 15 increases the penalties for giving or selling liquor to prohibited persons to $75 for each offense. Section 18 makes the penalty for selling or giving liquor to any intoxicated person $25. Section 21 limits the time when liquor cannot be sold. Section 40 repeals all existing excise laws. The date when the law is to take effect is left blank.

IN THE SENATE.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

ALBANY, Feb. 7.—In the State Senate, to-day, the following bills were passed: Collins' relative to the official newspapers in the City of Troy. BILLS INTRODUCED.

Bills introduced: By Kellogg, the Archibald McIntyre claim against the State. By Erwin, providing for a Commissioner of Statistics of Crime and Pauperism, to be nominated by the Governor and confirmed by the Senate, to hold office for three years, and to receive a salary. Clerks and Sheriffs of counties shall report to him and he shall report to the Legislature before March 1, of each year. ANCIENT ORDER UNITED WORKMEN.

A Discussion as to Excluding Persons who Sell Intoxicating Liquor.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

SYRACUSE, Feb. 7.—The Grand Lodge of the Ancient Order United Workmen, now in session in this City, voted to withdraw the subvention of $15,000 for the A. O. U. W. Argus after a two hours' debate. The other recommendations of the Committee on Finance were adopted. The per capita tax was fixed at $1. The lodge voted down a resolution to hold biennial sessions. The death claim of John Pfleeger, of North Collins Lodge, No. 96, who disappeared in 1879, was ordered paid. The Committee on Fraternal Congress concurred in the recommendations of the Grand Master Workman, and favored joining the Congress. The recommendation of State Medical Examiner Briggs that those engaged in the manufacture or sale of intoxicating liquors should not be accepted as members of the order was debated at length. Dr. Briggs maintained his position in a well-defined argument. It was made the special order for this afternoon.

Many Lives Lost—A Large Ship Goes to the Bottom.

By Cable to The Freeman.

LONDON, Feb. 7.—It has been ascertained beyond a doubt that the steamer which was sunk in collision with the British bark Largo Bay, off Beachy Head, Monday night, was the Glencoe. It was bound from Liverpool for London, and carried a crew of 54 men, all of whom were doubtless drowned.

THE GLENCOE.

The Glencoe was a three-masted iron screw steamer of 1,901 tons. It was built at Glasgow in 1878, and was rated 100 A 1.

A TERRIBLE CRASH.

The force of the collision was so great that the fore-mast of the Largo Bay was jerked out and fell across its deck-house, crushing it.

A TEMPEST WAS RAGING.

A wild tempest was raging and snow was falling so thickly that it was impossible for the look-out on either vessels to see the lights of the other until the collision was inevitable. The Glencoe forged ahead, trying to cross the Largo Bay's bow, but failed to do so and ran at full speed into the bark, demolishing 10 feet of its bow. The Largo Bay would also have sunk had it not been provided with water-tight sections. The suddenness of the shock dazed the crew of the bark.

STRUGGLING IN THE WATER.

They saw nothing further of the steamer, but could make out its crew struggling in the water. It was impossible, however, to render them any assistance, all of the Largo Bay's boats being smashed. The wind blew with such force that the sails of the bark were torn to shreds, and a boy was carried overboard. The bark weathered the storm until it was rescued and towed into Cowes.

STEAMER WRECKED LAST NIGHT.

One Man was Hurt but All on Board, it is Said, were Saved.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

BARRINGTON, N. S., Feb. 7.—The steamer Esone was reported, last night, wrecked on Blanche Island. It was in ballast and as there has been a heavy sea running it is probably badly smashed. One man was hurt but all on board were saved.

Weather Indications.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—Indications for Friday: Fair, decidedly warmer, westerly winds.

"THE BLOODY SHIRT."

Democratic papers have not yet had much to say in derision of the murder of John M. Clayton of Arkansas; they have not even spoken of Republican denunciations of it sneeringly as an attempt to revive the "bloody shirt." The crime is too awful to permit of this; its political purpose is so plain that even the old defenders of every Southern crime stand appalled. The Brooklyn Eagle has had the courage to brand the crime as a Democratic murder, and to declare that it would rather that every Democratic district in the country had been lost than to know of such a crime. The Little Rock Gazette, also Democratic, deplores it because "it comes at the end of fourteen years of peace and quiet, of local self-government by the bona fide citizens of the state, and at the close of four years of national Democratic rule, in the success of which the conduct of the Southern states has been a vital issue." "In the name of heaven," it cries, "is not this enough to put an end to criminal politics?" It characterizes the act as "the natural consequence of the crime that preceded it at Plummerville," the stealing of the ballot-box that contained a Republican majority of 500 votes.

The Democratic Macon Telegraph says the crime "was the outcome of the fears of debased and reckless men, who were willing to commit the blackest crime in the hope of thereby preventing the discovery of a lesser one"—"the stealing of the ballot boxes after the election last November, before the votes were counted." The Arkansas Democrat says the murder "belongs to a character of crime which must be put down in Arkansas if we would be saved from barbarism. It is one of the results of ballot-box robbery." The Petersburg Index-Appeal and the Nashville American make similar admissions that the crime was a political and a Democratic one. None of the papers quoted has a word of ridicule for the "bloody shirt." They are forced at last to wave it themselves.

This may be but a spasm; it is probable that in a few weeks our esteemed Democratic contemporaries will be reprobating further reference to it as an attempt to revive sectional issues or the memories of the war, and imploring us once more to let "bygones be bygones." In anticipation of this change of feeling, we take the opportunity while the Democratic heart is yet tender to produce a list of other crimes of a similar character, every one of which had a political object and was committed by Democrats, and not one of which ever drew forth a word of regret from Democratic sources. In regard to every one of the following catalogue of murders, we distinctly remember that they were from the outset defended or extenuated by Democratic newspapers at the North, while Republican newspapers were warned that any uncomplimentary comment upon them would fire the Southern heart and cause a long and dangerous delay to the greatly desired return of the era of good feeling. If the murder of Clayton is exceptional or more horrible than any of the following, we fail to discern the difference. The paragraph which we quote is from the Cleveland (Ohio) Leader:

The assassination of Mr. Clayton calls to mind also, the brutal murder of Senator Stevens, who was hanged by a mob in the Court House at Yanceyville, N. C., in April, 1870; the attack upon Senator Twitchell at Coushatta, La., in August, 1874, in which Twitchell's brother-in-law was killed and he was so wounded that both of his arms had to be amputated—the crime being carried out to secure Democratic control of the state Senate; the assassination of James L. Ivey and W. P. Billings in Alabama in 1874; the fiendish murder of Hon. John Patterson of Mississippi in 1874, who was hanged by a mob, which stole $1,400 from his person, that he asked his murderers to give to his sisters, and contributed it to the Democratic campaign fund; the assassination of Dr. D. B. Dinkgrave and Don A. Weber in Louisiana in 1876; the atrocious murder of Judge W. W. Chisholm, his little son and daughter and two of his friends by a mob, in Kemper county, Mississippi, in April, 1877; the assassination of Capt. Henry M. Dixon, at Yazoo, Miss., in 1878; the assassination of J. P. Matthews, a prominent merchant, at Copiah, Miss., in 1883, while attempting to vote in spite of a warning to keep away from the polls; the murder of A. W. Barrett, at the same place a few days later, and the assassination of Col. L. W. Blair at Camden, N. C., on July 4, 1882. Every one of these was a political murder. Every one killed was a Republican. In every case they were shot down without warning in the most cowardly manner. In not a single case that we remember were the murderers punished, although well known.

Now this is a terrible chapter of history. The record is kept up pretty steadily till 1883, covering at least eight of the "fourteen years of peace and quiet, of local self government" mentioned by the Little Rock Gazette. Murder is the Southern Democratic last resort at all times and seasons and under all conditions, when a political object is to be attained. The Clayton murder is not a whit more revolting than the beating to death of Mr. Benjamin in the same county on the day of the September election; there is no more atrocity about it than the attempted murder of Supervisor Wahl a month and a half earlier while engaged in the Clayton investigation, and whose life was saved because the bullet missed a vital part. To-day Arkansas, Mississippi and Florida men are hiding themselves from the fury of Democratic mobs because they have presumed to engage in the work of contesting the claims of Democratic candidates for Congress who owe their alleged elections to frauds. Democratic newspapers groan over the murder of Clayton which has become so conspicuous as to endanger the supremacy of assassination, but the same papers are silent over what has been going on in the second district of Florida and the second and third districts of Mississippi, in every one of which political murder has been plotted and its intentions avowed for the prevention of the taking of testimony in a Congressional contest.

THE CRIME OF DOUBLE MURDER.

The fashion is growing for the intending suicide to make sure of the murder of a female victim before taking his own life. This double crime is one of the most common on the list of murders, and a day seldom passes without the report of one or two. In Philadelphia last week a man killed the young woman whom he had deceived in the street, and then went home and cut the throat of his wife before turning the weapon upon himself. This cannot happen frequently, but one case suffices to show that the self-murderer uses little discrimination; any woman who has sustained relations of affection with him is satisfactory food for his powder.

One of the awfulest of these crimes was committed in Chicago yesterday, and, by the way, three double murders have happened in that city within five days. The other two cases were those of men who shot women for refusing to marry them and then killed themselves. The suicide and murderer yesterday was Walter S. Bradley, a reporter on the Globe, and the victim was his wife. The latter was also a newspaper writer, and was engaged as the dramatic critic on the same paper. The tragedy took place in the Cortland Hotel at 10 A. M. The couple had had a serious quarrel in their rooms on Friday last, and the husband was prevented from choking the woman to death by the clerk, who heard her gasping for breath and forced his way into the room. Bradley promptly left the hotel and did not return until yesterday morning.

Mrs. Bradley told Mr. Evans, the proprietor of the hotel, Tuesday evening, that she expected her husband in the morning, and asked him to be ready to protect her. When Bradley came in he found his wife in the parlor conversing with Mrs. Evans. Taking a seat on the piano stool he began a commonplace conversation with his wife, and while it was in progress the other lady went out. A moment afterwards she heard a pistol shot and turned just in time to see Mrs. Bradley rise to her feet, stretch her arms imploringly towards her husband and advance a step towards him. As she did so the fiend took more careful aim; the doomed woman closed her eyes, and the second bullet crashed through her forehead. The clerk at this moment came in, but Bradley chased him out. He then walked quickly to his wife's body, pushed it with his foot to be sure that life was gone, and raised the pistol to his own head and fired. The bullet grazed his head and struck the wall. A second shot was entirely successful, as he pressed the weapon firmly to his right temple and fired. His body fell to the floor like a log. A little later a frantic young man named Frederick Mann rushed in, kissed the face of the dead woman, and then assailed that of the murderer with his fists. He became so violent that he had to be led away. He was a warm friend of Mrs. Bradley, and acted as her escort to and from her work at night while her husband was serving a term of a year in the penitentiary for embezzlement. Bradley had become insanely jealous of Mann, and this is supposed to have been the provocation for his crime. Mann is a merchant, and connected with a reputable business firm.

Legislatures have failed to deal with this awful crime so dangerous to women, for the reason that the murderer places himself beyond the reach of punishment when he takes his own life. Something might be done, however, to give it a special brand of infamy. The criminal's portrait, properly labeled, might for instance be placed in some murderers' gallery, to remain there forever, or the old English expedient of burying the body at the X-roads with a stake through it might be tried. Or a special graveyard might be assigned somewhere in the state for the burial of all such wretches, with a design upon it appropriately horrible. Let the crime of murder and suicide be made the most infamous upon the whole calendar, and let the infamy be made perpetual. It would have a restraining and wholesome effect.

PUBLIC OPINION.

The soft winter has made life more tolerable for the poor, but it has not softened the hearts of the coal companies. In order to keep up prices they are stopping work in the mines.—Philadelphia Record.

The Legislature of Alabama is legislating to secure immigration. When Alabama learns that immigrants do not like to risk their fortunes in communities where civil rights are often denied, and where freedom does not exist, a change may come.—Rochester Democrat and Chronicle.

We suppose the professional workingmen of New York who ordered out on strike the poor horse car drivers and conductors are satisfied with their work. There should be a law to punish these rattle-brained agitators who will not work, and who are not willing that any one else shall work.—Troy Telegram.

It has occurred to somebody that David B. Hill will be only forty-nine in 1892. It should be remembered, however, that that was exactly the age at which Aaron Burr retired from the eventful arena of American politics, so that there is but cold comfort for David B. surrounding the fact stated.—Chatham Republican.

"No member of Cleveland's Cabinet will survive the wreck, with perhaps the exception of Secretary Whitney," is the opinion of the Boston Traveller. Indeed it will be difficult for the average citizen to remember, a year hence, the names of those now distinguished, but soon to be extinguished, statesmen.—Hartford Post.

Word comes from Washington that the German government has ordered one of its military officers to look up our navy and coast defenses and report what they amount to on paper. It will not take him long to make an inventory of Boston's fortifications and guns. Nevertheless, Uncle Samuel has always known how to get guns and men to fire 'em off whenever he has been stumped to fight.—Boston Globe.

Bismarck has asked for a conference with the United States on the Samoan question, and is evidently willing to come to an amicable adjustment of the difficulties. It was quite absurd all along to suppose that two intelligent nations like Germany and the United States should come to blows over an island in the Pacific to which neither has any claims except by consent of the natives.—Providence Journal.

Instead of punishing the drunkard by making him, or, as it happens in nine cases out of ten, his family or friends pay a fine, the fine should be inflicted upon the person who sold him the liquor. The trouble is, however, to find out who made the man drunk. How would it work to assess the fines upon the whole body of licensed liquor dealers, and let them be responsible for finding out who in particular is to blame?—Springfield Union.

Democratic statesmen in Texas think the murder of Clayton, in Arkansas, was a very bungling political job. In Texas, when there is a contest over returns, a committee proceeds to quietly hang the Republican witnesses in advance of official investigation, and little is ever said or heard about it outside of the state. A thousand Republican witnesses could be slyly hanged in Texas without a ripple of the national excitement caused by the assassination of Colonel Clayton.—Binghamton Republican.

THE LIFE CURRENT.

Deprive the vegetable world of moisture and it pales, withers and dies; the whole earth becomes parched, and desolation pervades the landscape. Deprive the human system of pure blood and health is impossible, disease is inevitable. The skin becomes charged with repulsive humors, the lungs loaded with foreign secretions, fevers ensue, and, unless speedily arrested, death follows. Renew to healthy action the liver, the great blood-purifying gland, with Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and health flows through every avenue, restoring every organ to vigor. All druggists.

The blood is the source of health. Keep it pure by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which is peculiar in its curative power.

CARD OF THANKS.

If the proprietor of Kemp's Balsam should publish a card of thanks, containing expressions of gratitude which come to him daily, from those who have been cured of severe throat and lung troubles by the use of Kemp's Balsam, it would fill a fair-sized book. How much better to invite all to call on any druggist and get a free sample bottle that you may test for yourself its power. Large bottles 50c and $1.00.

So simple yet powerful when applied to pains and weaknesses—Hop Plasters. Don't neglect yourself.

COMMON AIR.

The breath of life is conveyed to every part of the human lungs by means of a system of fine vessels called the bronchial tubes. When these are clogged up by an accumulation of mucous, so that breathing is very difficult, especially after any exertion, a person has the leading symptoms of Asthma or Phthisic. Besides this the tubes are often reduced to much less than their natural diameter by spasmodic contraction; often nearly suffocating the sufferer. Whether the case is of long standing or not, Dr. David Kennedy's Cherry Balsam is the most efficacious known remedy. It at once loosens the mucous matter, and causes it to be ejected by a free and easy expectoration. The Balsam in such cases should be taken in larger doses than for a common Cough, and no harm is done if some vomiting results. Take particular notice that if the disease is complicated with a dyspeptic state of the stomach Kennedy's Favorite Remedy must be used to correct the digestion. The case must be very severe that will not rapidly improve under this treatment.

THE REV. GEO. H. THAYER, of Bourbon, Ind. says: "Both myself and wife owe our lives to SHILOH'S CONSUMPTION CURE." Sold by Frederick J. R. Clark.

I have been a sufferer from catarrh for the past eight years. Have tried a number of remedies advertised as "sure cures" without obtaining any relief. I had resolved never to take any other patent medicines, when a friend advised me to try Ely's Cream Balm. I did so with great reluctance, but can now testify with pleasure that after using it for six weeks I believe myself cured. It is a most agreeable remedy—an invaluable Balm.—Joseph Stewart, 624 Grand-avenue, Brooklyn.

"It takes the tusks of 75,000 elephants a year," says an exchange, "to supply the world's piano-keys, billiard-balls and knife-blades." It takes many times that number of Dr. Tutt's Liver Pills to supply the world's demand for them. Sound sleep, good digestion, buoyant spirits, and fine appetite are some of the results.

"THE BLOODY SHIRT."

Democratic papers have not yet had much to say in derision of the murder of John M. Clayton of Arkansas; they have not even spoken of Republican denunciations of it sneeringly as an attempt to revive the "bloody shirt." The crime is too awful to permit of this; its political purpose is so plain that even the old defenders of every Southern crime stand appalled. The Brooklyn Eagle has had the courage to brand the crime as a Democratic murder, and to declare that it would rather that every Democratic district in the country had been lost than to know of such a crime. The Little Rock Gazette, also Democratic, deplores it because "it comes at the end of fourteen years of peace and quiet, of local self-government by the bona fide citizens of the state, and at the close of four years of national Democratic rule, in the success of which the conduct of the Southern states has been a vital issue." "In the name of heaven," it cries, "is not this enough to put an end to criminal politics?" It characterizes the act as "the natural consequence of the crime that preceded it at Plummerville," the stealing of the ballot-box that contained a Republican majority of 500 votes.

The Democratic Macon Telegraph says the crime "was the outcome of the fears of debased and reckless men, who were willing to commit the blackest crime in the hope of thereby preventing the discovery of a lesser one"—"the stealing of the ballot boxes after the election last November, before the votes were counted." The Arkansas Democrat says the murder "belongs to a character of crime which must be put down in Arkansas if we would be saved from barbarism. It is one of the results of ballot-box robbery." The Petersburg Index-Appeal and the Nashville American make similar admissions that the crime was a political and a Democratic one. None of the papers quoted has a word of ridicule for the "bloody shirt." They are forced at last to wave it themselves.

This may be but a spasm; it is probable that in a few weeks our esteemed Democratic contemporaries will be reprobating further reference to it as an attempt to revive sectional issues or the memories of the war, and imploring us once more to let "bygones be bygones." In anticipation of this change of feeling, we take the opportunity while the Democratic heart is yet tender to produce a list of other crimes of a similar character, every one of which had a political object and was committed by Democrats, and not one of which ever drew forth a word of regret from Democratic sources. In regard to every one of the following catalogue of murders, we distinctly remember that they were from the outset defended or extenuated by Democratic newspapers at the North, while Republican newspapers were warned that any uncomplimentary comment upon them would fire the Southern heart and cause a long and dangerous delay to the greatly desired return of the era of good feeling. If the murder of Clayton is exceptional or more horrible than any of the following, we fail to discern the difference. The paragraph which we quote is from the Cleveland (Ohio) Leader:

The assassination of Mr. Clayton calls to mind also, the brutal murder of Senator Stevens, who was hanged by a mob in the Court House at Yanceyville, N. C., in April, 1870; the attack upon Senator Twitchell at Coushatta, La., in August, 1874, in which Twitchell's brother-in-law was killed and he was so wounded that both of his arms had to be amputated—the crime being carried out to secure Democratic control of the state Senate; the assassination of James L. Ivey and W. P. Billings in Alabama in 1874; the fiendish murder of Hon. John Patterson of Mississippi in 1874, who was hanged by a mob, which stole $1,400 from his person, that he asked his murderers to give to his sisters, and contributed it to the Democratic campaign fund; the assassination of Dr. D. B. Dinkgrave and Don A. Weber in Louisiana in 1876; the atrocious murder of Judge W. W. Chisholm, his little son and daughter and two of his friends by a mob, in Kemper county, Mississippi, in April, 1877; the assassination of Capt. Henry M. Dixon, at Yazoo, Miss., in 1878; the assassination of J. P. Matthews, a prominent merchant, at Copiah, Miss., in 1883, while attempting to vote in spite of a warning to keep away from the polls; the murder of A. W. Barrett, at the same place a few days later, and the assassination of Col. L. W. Blair at Camden, N. C., on July 4, 1882. Every one of these was a political murder. Every one killed was a Republican. In every case they were shot down without warning in the most cowardly manner. In not a single case that we remember were the murderers punished, although well known.

Now this is a terrible chapter of history. The record is kept up pretty steadily till 1883, covering at least eight of the "fourteen years of peace and quiet, of local self government" mentioned by the Little Rock Gazette. Murder is the Southern Democratic last resort at all times and seasons and under all conditions, when a political object is to be attained. The Clayton murder is not a whit more revolting than the beating to death of Mr. Benjamin in the same county on the day of the September election; there is no more atrocity about it than the attempted murder of Supervisor Wahl a month and a half earlier while engaged in the Clayton investigation, and whose life was saved because the bullet missed a vital part. To-day Arkansas, Mississippi and Florida men are hiding themselves from the fury of Democratic mobs because they have presumed to engage in the work of contesting the claims of Democratic candidates for Congress who owe their alleged elections to frauds. Democratic newspapers groan over the murder of Clayton which has become so conspicuous as to endanger the supremacy of assassination, but the same papers are silent over what has been going on in the second district of Florida and the second and third districts of Mississippi, in every one of which political murder has been plotted and its intentions avowed for the prevention of the taking of testimony in a Congressional contest.

THE CRIME OF DOUBLE MURDER.

The fashion is growing for the intending suicide to make sure of the murder of a female victim before taking his own life. This double crime is one of the most common on the list of murders, and a day seldom passes without the report of one or two. In Philadelphia last week a man killed the young woman whom he had deceived in the street, and then went home and cut the throat of his wife before turning the weapon upon himself. This cannot happen frequently, but one case suffices to show that the self-murderer uses little discrimination; any woman who has sustained relations of affection with him is satisfactory food for his powder.

One of the awfulest of these crimes was committed in Chicago yesterday, and, by the way, three double murders have happened in that city within five days. The other two cases were those of men who shot women for refusing to marry them and then killed themselves. The suicide and murderer yesterday was Walter S. Bradley, a reporter on the Globe, and the victim was his wife The latter was also a newspaper writer, and was engaged as the dramatic critic on the same paper. The tragedy took place in the Cortland Hotel at 10 A. M. The couple had had a serious quarrel in their rooms on Friday last, and the husband was prevented from choking the woman to death by the clerk, who heard her gasping for breath and forced his way into the room. Bradley promptly left the hotel and did not return until yesterday morning.

Mrs. Bradley told Mr. Evans, the proprietor of the hotel, Tuesday evening, that she expected her husband in the morning, and asked him to be ready to protect her. When Bradley came in he found his wife in the parlor conversing with Mrs. Evans. Taking a seat on the piano stool he began a commonplace conversation with his wife, and while it was in progress the other lady went out. A moment afterwards she heard a pistol shot and turned just in time to see Mrs. Bradley rise to her feet, stretch her arms imploringly towards her husband and advance a step towards him. As she did so the fiend took more careful aim; the doomed woman closed her eyes, and the second bullet crashed through her forehead. The clerk at this moment came in, but Bradley chased him out. He then walked quickly to his wife's body, pushed it with his foot to be sure that life was gone, and raised the pistol to his own head and fired. The bullet grazed his head and struck the wall. A second shot was entirely successful, as he pressed the weapon firmly to his right temple and fired. His body fell to the floor like a log. A little later a frantic young man named Frederick Mann rushed in, kissed the face of the dead woman, and then assailed that of the murderer with his fists. He became so violent that he had to be led away. He was a warm friend of Mrs. Bradley, and acted as her escort to and from her work at night while her husband was serving a term of a year in the penitentiary for embezzlement. Bradley had become insanely jealous of Mann, and this is supposed to have been the provocation for his crime. Mann is a merchant, and connected with a reputable business firm.

Legislatures have failed to deal with this awful crime so dangerous to women, for the reason that the murderer places himself beyond the reach of punishment when he takes his own life. Something might be done, however, to give it a special brand of infamy. The criminal's portrait, properly labeled, might for instance be placed in some murderers' gallery, to remain there forever, or the old English expedient of burying the body at the X-roads with a stake through it might be tried. Or a special graveyard might be assigned somewhere in the state for the burial of all such wretches, with a design upon it appropriately horrible. Let the crime of murder and suicide be made the most infamous upon the whole calendar, and let the infamy be made perpetual. It would have a restraining and wholesome effect.

PUBLIC OPINION.

The soft winter has made life more tolerable for the poor, but it has not softened the hearts of the coal companies. In order to keep up prices they are stopping work in the mines.—Philadelphia Record.

The Legislature of Alabama is legislating to secure immigration. When Alabama learns that immigrants do not like to risk their fortunes in communities where civil rights are often denied, and where freedom does not exist, a change may come.—Rochester Democrat and Chronicle.

We suppose the professional workingmen of New York who ordered out on strike the poor horse car drivers and conductors are satisfied with their work. There should be a law to punish these rattle-brained agitators who will not work, and who are not willing that any one else shall work.—Troy Telegram.

It has occurred to somebody that David B. Hill will be only forty-nine in 1892. It should be remembered, however, that that was exactly the age at which Aaron Burr retired from the eventful arena of American politics, so that there is but cold comfort for David B. surrounding the fact stated.—Chatham Republican.

"No member of Cleveland's Cabinet will survive the wreck, with perhaps the exception of Secretary Whitney," is the opinion of the Boston Traveller. Indeed it will be difficult for the average citizen to remember, a year hence, the names of those now distinguished, but soon to be extinguished, statesmen.—Hartford Post.

Word comes from Washington that the German government has ordered one of its military officers to look up our navy and coast defenses and report what they amount to on paper. It will not take him long to make an inventory of Boston's fortifications and guns. Nevertheless, Uncle Samuel has always known how to get guns and men to fire 'em off whenever he has been stumped to fight.—Boston Globe.

Bismarck has asked for a conference with the United States on the Samoan question, and is evidently willing to come to an amicable adjustment of the difficulties. It was quite absurd all along to suppose that two intelligent nations like Germany and the United States should come to blows over an island in the Pacific to which neither has any claims except by consent of the natives.—Providence Journal.

Instead of punishing the drunkard by making him, or, as it happens in nine cases out of ten, his family or friends pay a fine, the fine should be inflicted upon the person who sold him the liquor. The trouble is, however, to find out who made the man drunk. How would it work to assess the fines upon the whole body of licensed liquor dealers, and let them be responsible for finding out who in particular is to blame?—Springfield Union.

Democratic statesmen in Texas think the murder of Clayton, in Arkansas, was a very bungling political job. In Texas, when there is a contest over returns, a committee proceeds to quietly hang the Republican witnesses in advance of official investigation, and little is ever said or heard about it outside of the state. A thousand Republican witnesses could be slyly hanged in Texas without a ripple of the national excitement caused by the assassination of Colonel Clayton.—Binghamton Republican.

THE LIFE CURRENT.

Deprive the vegetable world of moisture and it pales, withers and dies; the whole earth becomes parched, and desolation pervades the landscape. Deprive the human system of pure blood and health is impossible, disease is inevitable. The skin becomes charged with repulsive humors, the lungs loaded with foreign secretions, fevers ensue, and, unless speedily arrested, death follows. Renew to healthy action the liver, the great blood-purifying gland, with Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and health flows through every avenue, restoring every organ to vigor. All druggists.

The blood is the source of health. Keep it pure by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which is peculiar in its curative power.

CARD OF THANKS.

If the proprietor of Kemp's Balsam should publish a card of thanks, containing expressions of gratitude which come to him daily, from those who have been cured of severe throat and lung troubles by the use of Kemp's Balsam, it would fill a fair-sized book. How much better to invite all to call on any druggist and get a free sample bottle that you may test for yourself its power. Large bottles 50c and $1.00.

So simple yet powerful when applied to pains and weaknesses—Hop Plasters. Don't neglect yourself.

We do not hesitate to guarantee them every time, and we stand ready to refund the purchase price, if satisfactory results do not follow their use. These remedies have won their great popularity purely on their merits. VanDeusen Bros., Rondout, and F. J. R. Clarke, Kingston, druggists.

In these days of adulteration and fraud, in all branches of business and pursuits, it is pleasing to know that there is one medicine prepared which is strictly pure. Such a medicine is Sulphur Bitters in curing scrofula; you can depend on them every time. W. B. Everts. A. M., Charleston, S. C.

COMMON AIR.

The breath of life is conveyed to every part of the human lungs by means of a system of fine vessels called the bronchial tubes. When these are clogged up by an accumulation of mucous, so that breathing is very difficult, especially after any exertion, a person has the leading symptoms of Asthma or Phthisic. Besides this the tubes are often reduced to much less than their natural diameter by spasmodic contraction; often nearly suffocating the sufferer. Whether the case is of long standing or not. Dr. David Kennedy's Cherry Balsam is the most efficacious known remedy. It at once loosens the mucous matter, and causes it to be ejected by a free and easy expectoration. The Balsam in such cases should be taken in larger doses than for a common Cough, and no harm is done if some vomiting results. Take particular notice that if the disease is complicated with a dyspeptic state of the stomach Kennedy's Favorite Remedy must be used to correct the digestion. The case must be very severe that will not rapidly improve under this treatment.

THE REV. GEO. H. THAYER, of Bourbon, Ind. says: "Both myself and wife owe our lives to SHILOH'S CONSUMPTION CURE." Sold by Frederick J. R. Clark.

I have been a sufferer from catarrh for the past eight years. Have tried a number of remedies advertised as "sure cures" without obtaining any relief. I had resolved never to take any other patent medicines, when a friend advised me to try Ely's Cream Balm. I did so with great reluctance, but can now testify with pleasure that after using it for six weeks I believe myself cured. It is a most agreeable remedy—an invaluable Balm.—Joseph Stewart, 624 Grand-avenue, Brooklyn.

PUT THIS IN YOUR SCRAP-BOOK.

"It takes the tusks of 75,000 elephants a year," says an exchange, "to supply the world's piano-keys, billiard-balls and knife-blades." It takes many times that number of Dr. Tutt's Liver Pills to supply the world's demand for them. Sound sleep, good digestion, buoyant spirits, and fine appetite are some of the results.

The Old Doctors

Drew blood, modern doctors cleanse it, hence the increased demand for Alteratives. It is now well known that most diseases are due not to over-abundance, but impurity of the blood, and it is equally well attested that no blood medicine is so efficacious as Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

"One of my children had a large sore break out on the leg. We applied simple remedies, for a while, thinking the sore would shortly heal. But it grew worse. We sought medical advice, and were told that an alterative medicine was necessary. Ayer's Sarsaparilla being above all others, we used it with marvelous results. The sore healed and health and strength rapidly returned."—J. J. Armstrong, Weimar, Texas.

"I find Ayer's Sarsaparilla to be an admirable remedy for the cure of blood diseases. I prescribe it, and it does the work every time."—E. L. Pater, M. D., Manhattan, Kansas.

"We have sold Ayer's Sarsaparilla here for over thirty years and always recommended it when asked to name the best blood-purifier."—W. T. McLean, Druggist, Augusta, Ohio.

"Ayer's medicines continue to be the stand ard remedies in spite of all competition."—T. W Richmond, Bear Lake, Mich.

★ BRIGHT'S DISEASE. ★

A Ten-Year-Old Child Saved After the Failure of Four Physicians.

My little girl, ten years of age, was taken sick in March, 1888, with scarlet fever. When recovering she took a severe cold, which developed Bright's Disease of the Kidneys. Her ankles, feet and eyes were terribly swollen, she had a burning fever, and all the symptoms of an aggravated case of Bright's Disease. Four of our best physicians attended her, but without success, and

Her Life was Despaired of.

But a mother's love and prayers surmount all difficulties, and I determined to try Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, made at Rondout, N. Y. This was a last resort, and I hoped, although my little daughter's case was a very severe one, that the Favorite Remedy would do for her what it had done for others whose condition had not been, seemingly, as hopeless. How happy I am that I determined upon this course—for an improvement was at once perceptible. The fever left her—her appetite improved—she gained six pounds in a short time, and one by one the well known and dreaded symptoms of the disease left her. Words fail to express my gratitude and I cannot too earnestly recommend the Favorite Remedy. It was and is due entirely to the Favorite Remedy, which was the only medicine taken after her case was abandoned by the physicians.

Mrs. Laura A. Kempton, West Rutland, Vermont.

The diseases that follow Scarlet Fever, Measles, Diphtheria and various other complaints often leave behind them sequellas of the most obstinate and dangerous character. To expel all traces of such disorders, tone up the various organs, and fill the veins with pure and nutritious blood, use

RIKER'S EXPECTORANT

Acknowledged by all who have used it to be the most wonderful cure in the world for Coughs and Colds.

Is warranted to cure any ordinary cough or cold or your money is returned. A pleasant, swift and sure cure for Coughs and Colds.

If taken as soon as you feel that irritation or dryness of the throat, occasioned by a cold, four to six doses will cure.

It won't cure a horrible sore throat in one night, nor in fact will it cure anything in that space of time. It takes at least a day or so to cure a cold, but

IT GETS THERE ALL THE SAME.

It stops your cough almost at once, but should you stop taking it after two or three doses probably your cough would return. One thing you can always be sure of: Long before you have emptied the bottle you will be "all O. K."

As a trial of this truly wonderful medicine costs nothing, and as 95 cases out of every 100 will be cured it is well worth your while to at least make the trial.

Strauss, of New-York City, were married at the residence of the bride's father, on Spring-street, the Rev. W. Berger, Rabbi of the Congregation Anche Chesed, officiating. Relatives and a few near friends were present. The wedding gifts were handsome.

The correspondent of THE FREEMAN at South Rondout writes: Captain Henry A. Haber, of this place, and Mrs. Hathaway, of Kingston, were married, last night, at the residence of the bride's father, on Elm[?]ndorf-street, by the Rev. Dr. VanSlyke. The wedding was a quiet one, only members of the bride's family and a few intimate friends of the groom being present. After receiving the felicitations of their friends and partaking of a collation, the bride and groom were driven to the residence of the latter at this place, where a large company of invited guests from here, Kingston City, Eddyville and New-Salem greeted the happy pair with smiles and showered congratulations on them. The bride was dressed in brown silk and wore a handsome corsage bouquet.

NEWSPAPERS AND JOURNALISTS.

New Paper in Athens, Greene Co.—Concerning Albany Correspondents—Personal.

Athens has a new paper—the News. H. A. Greene is the editor.

The Rhinebeck Gazette, under Editor Rhodes' management, is a bright, cultured, newsy, clean weekly. The Gazette is a credit to Rhinebeck.

We believe the Register is the only paper in Newburgh, or along the Hudson River, which has an Albany correspondent.—Newburgh Register.

Guess not. THE FREEMAN has a special correspondent at Albany.

James Bennett is now one of the editors of the Port Jervis Union. He has been employed on the Gazette, of that village, for several years.

The Editor of the Journal is enjoying a visit from his father, R. B. Taylor, who, at the age of 79 years, was able on Wednesday to make the journey from his home amid the Berkshire hills, by a circuitous route, to Ellenville. He is the last survivor of a family of 15, 13 of whom lived to adult years. The late R. Baxter Taylor, first editor of the Journal, was the youngest of the number.—Ellenville Journal.

The Poor Mail Service.

[From the Middletown Press.]

By almost every mail we are receiving letters of the same purport as that printed below from subscribers who claim that the Press does not reach them regularly, and sometimes not at all. These complaints have been on the increase of late. All that we can say is that the paper is promptly and regularly put into the Post Office here, and there is no reason why it should not reach its subscribers promptly and regularly. We do not know where the fault lies. Certain it is that never during the many years that the present proprietors have been connected with the publication of the Press have we had such trouble in getting the paper into the hands of subscribers as during the past three years; and never before had so many complaints as within the last two months. It is as provoking to us as we know it must be to our subscribers and readers.

A Youngster Too Smart by Half.

"Ma," said a Rondout small boy, "why don't you give 'Pa' a cover for his whiskers?"

"Cover for his whiskers; why, what does he want a cover for his whiskers for?"

"To keep the wind from whistling through them."

When "Pa" came home "Ma" told him what little "Johnny" had said about the "wind whistling through his whiskers." A short time after the rapid whizz of a shingle was heard.

A LADY'S CHANCES OF MARRYING.

Every woman has a chance of "catching a husband," but it is conceded that young ladies between twenty and twenty-five years of age are more likely to draw the matrimonial prizes. However, it is not an unusual thing to hear of the marriage of a lady who has passed the three-quarter century mark, yet, how can a woman, weak, dispirited, enervated and tormented by diseases common to her sex, hope to become a happy wife and mother? Of course she cannot; yet by the magic aid of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, all these obstacles are swept away. As a powerful, invigorating tonic, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription imparts strength to the whole system, and to the womb and its appendages, in particular. For over-worked, "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop girls," housekeepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, it is the greatest earthly boon, being unequaled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

The Old Doctors

Drew blood, modern doctors cleanse it, hence the increased demand for Alteratives. It is now well known that most diseases are due not to over-abundance, but impurity of the blood, and it is equally well attested that no blood medicine is so efficacious as Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

"One of my children had a large sore break out on the leg. We applied simple remedies, for a while, thinking the sore would shortly heal. But it grew worse. We sought medical advice, and were told that an alterative medicine was necessary. Ayer's Sarsaparilla being above all others, we used it with marvelous results. The sore healed and health and strength rapidly returned." - J. J. Armstrong, Weimar, Texas.

"I find Ayer's Sarsaparilla to be an admirable remedy for the cure of blood diseases. I prescribe it, and it does the work every time."—E. L. Pater, M. D., Manhattan, Kansas.

"We have sold Ayer's Sarsaparilla here for over thirty years and always recommended it when asked to name the best blood-purifier."—W. T. McLean, Druggist, Augusta, Ohio.

"Ayer's medicines continue to be the stand ard remedies in spite of all competition."—T. W Richmond, Bear Lake, Mich.

★ BRIGHT'S DISEASE. ★

A Ten-Year-Old Child Saved After the Failure of Four Physicians.

My little girl, ten years of age, was taken sick in March, 1888, with scarlet fever. When recovering she took a severe cold, which developed Bright's Disease of the Kidneys. Her ankles, feet and eyes were terribly swollen, she had a burning fever, and all the symptoms of an aggravated case of Bright's Disease. Four of our best physicians attended her, but without success, and

Her Life was Despaired of.

But a mother's love and prayers surmount all difficulties, and I determined to try Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, made at Rondout, N. Y. This was a last resort, and I hoped, although my little daughter's case was a very severe one, that the Favorite Remedy would do for her what it had done for others whose condition had not been, seemingly, as hopeless. How happy I am that I determined upon this course—for an improvement was at once perceptible. The fever left her—her appetite improved—she gained six pounds in a short time, and one by one the well known and dreaded symptoms of the disease left her. Words fail to express my gratitude and I cannot too earnestly recommend the Favorite Remedy. It was and is due entirely to the Favorite Remedy, which was the only medicine taken after her case was abandoned by the physicians.

Mrs. Laura A. Kempton, West Rutland, Vermont.

The diseases that follow Scarlet Fever, Measles, Diphtheria and various other complaints often leave behind them sequellas of the most obstinate and dangerous character. To expel all traces of such disorders, tone up the various organs, and fill the veins with pure and nutritious blood, use

All of which are legally guaranteed to giv entire satisfaction or they cost you nothing.

RIKER'S

EXPECTORANT

Acknowledged by all who have used it to be the most wonderful cure in the world for Coughs and Colds.

Is warranted to cure any ordinary cough or cold or your money is returned. A pleasant, swift and sure cure for Coughs and Colds.

If taken as soon as you feel that irritation or dryness of the throat, occasioned by a cold, four to six doses will cure.

It won't cure a horrible sore throat in one night, nor in fact will it cure anything in that space of time. It takes at least a day or so to cure a cold, but

IT GETS THERE ALL THE SAME.

It stops your cough almost at once, but should you stop taking it after two or three doses probably your cough would return. One thing you can always be sure of: Long before you have emptied the bottle you will be "all O. K."

As a trial of this truly wonderful medicine costs nothing, and as 95 cases out of every 100 will be cured it is well worth your while to at least make the trial.

Price per bottle containing half a pint (enough to cure eight people if taken in time),

60 CENTS.

The wedding was a quiet one, only members of the bride's family and a few intimate friends of the groom being present. NEWSPAPERS AND JOURNALISTS.

New Paper in Athens, Greene Co.—Concerning Albany Correspondents—Personal.

Athens has a new paper—the News. H. A. Greene is the editor.

The Rhinebeck Gazette, under Editor Rhodes' management, is a bright, cultured, newsy, clean weekly. The Gazette is a credit to Rhinebeck.

We believe the Register is the only paper in Newburgh, or along the Hudson River, which has an Albany correspondent.—Newburgh Register.

Guess not. THE FREEMAN has a special correspondent at Albany.

James Bennett is now one of the editors of the Port-Jervis Union. He has been employed on the Gazette, of that village, for several years.

The Editor of the Journal is enjoying a visit from his father, R. B. Taylor, who, at the age of 79 years, was able on Wednesday to make the journey from his home amid the Berkshire hills, by a circuitous route, to Ellenville. He is the last survivor of a family of 15, 13 of whom lived to adult years. The late R. Baxter Taylor, first editor of the Journal, was the youngest of the number.—Ellenville Journal.

The Poor Mail Service.

[From the Middletown Press.]

By almost every mail we are receiving letters of the same purport as that printed below from subscribers who claim that the Press does not reach them regularly, and sometimes not at all. These complaints have been on the increase of late. All that we can say is that the paper is promptly and regularly put into the Post Office here, and there is no reason why it should not reach its subscribers promptly and regularly. We do not know where the fault lies. Certain it is that never during the many years that the present proprietors have been connected with the publication of the Press have we had such trouble in getting the paper into the hands of subscribers as during the past three years; and never before had so many complaints as within the last two months. It is as provoking to us as we know it must be to our subscribers and readers.

A Youngster Too Smart by Half.

"Cover for his whiskers; why, what does he want a cover for his whiskers for?"

"To keep the wind from whistling through them."

When "Pa" came home "Ma" told him what little "Johnny" had said about the "wind whistling through his whiskers." A short time after the rapid whizz of a shingle was heard.

"WE POINT WITH PRIDE"

To the "Good name at home," won by Hood's Sarsaparilla, In Lowell, Mass., where it is prepared there is more of Hood's Sarsaparilla sold than of all other medicines, and it has given the best of satisfaction since its introduction ten years ago. This could not be if the medicine did not possess merit. If you suffer from impure blood, try Hood's Sarsaparilla and realize its peculiar curative power.

A spring medicine is needed by every one. Winter food, largely consisting of salt meat and animal fats, causes the liver to become disordered and the blood impure, hence the necessity of a cleansing medicine. The best is Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Ministers, Lawyers, Teachers, and others whose occupation gives but little exercise, should use Carter's Little Liver pills for torpid liver and biliousness. One is a dose. Try them.

If so, why? when a sample bottle is gladly given to you free by any druggist and the large size costs only 50c and $1.00.

A LADY'S CHANCES OF MARRYING.

Every woman has a chance of "catching a husband," but it is conceded that young ladies between twenty and twenty-five years of age are more likely to draw the matrimonial prizes. However, it is not an unusual thing to hear of the marriage of a lady who has passed the three-quarter century mark, yet, how can a woman, weak, dispirited, enervated and tormented by diseases common to her sex, hope to become a happy wife and mother? Of course she cannot; yet by the magic aid of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, all these obstacles are swept away. As a powerful, invigorating tonic, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription imparts strength to the whole system, and to the womb and its appendages, in particular. For over-worked, "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop girls," housekeepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, it is the greatest earthly boon, being unequaled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

WILL YOU SUFFER with Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint? Shiloh's Vitalizer is guaranteed to cure you. For sale by F. J. R. Clarke, Kingston.

SHILOH'S VITALIZER is what you need for Constipation, Loss of Appetite, Dizziness and all symptoms of Dyspepsia. Price 10 and 75 cents per bottle For sale by F. J. R. Clarke, Kingston.

A LUCKY MAN.

Mr. Lyman Crawford, Druggist, of Springfield, Mass., says: For years I was afflicted with kidney disease in its worst form, and I state, with a perfect recollection of all that was done for me, that Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, of Rondout, N. Y., gave me permanent relief.

If your druggist does not keep the medicine, address the proprietor, Rondout, N. Y.

ALLEGED ASSAULT ON A COACHMAN.

General Opinion Appears to be that Decker Was Thrown Out of the Carriage.

People here still show considerable interest in the matter of the assault, as claimed, upon Leonard Decker, coachman of William R. Sheffield, of Saugerties. Joseph DeGraff paid a visit to the place where the team was found at the Shufeldt house and traced footsteps from the place where the man had been thrown from his wagon, across the lots to the house of the farmer of William M Hayes. He found blood in several places. This investigation, coupled with the fact that a man who said his name was Decker rapped at the door of this house, makes it clear that Decker, after being thrown out of the wagon, was so confused that he left his team and went across the Lowlands instead of following the road back to Kingston. Isaac Roosa, of Kingston, on the afternoon when Decker took the team from the Eagle Hotel, says he was looking out of the window of his office, near by, and saw the team come out of the drive-way of the hotel and turn toward Fair-street. He does not know Decker, but he saw the team when it was first brought to the Eagle Hotel, and noticed the tails of the horses were very muddy. He was then told that it was Sheffield's team. When the team, later in the afternoon, was driven out and turned toward Fair-street, Roosa noticed that the tails of the horses were still muddy, and wondered why the coachman had not taken better care of the horses.

KINGSTON PHILHARMONIC SOCIETY.

A Successful Rehearsal Held at the City Hall Last Night.

There was a fair attendance at the rehearsal of the Kingston City Philharmonic Society, last night, at the City Hall. Professor Hulslander conducted the singing. Several numbers were practiced. The first was a pretty English glee, in C major by Sir Henry Bishop, entitled "What Phrase Sad and Soft." It begins with a tenor solo, then follows a soprano solo, a duet between the soprano and alto, a quartette and chorus. The second, a comparatively new one, by Roeckel, a popular French song writer. It is a four-part song, "Madelime." The third, a chorus for female voices entitled "Old German Shepherd's Song," by Kienzl, and fourth, a humorous fugue by Caldicott entitled "Little Jack Horner." There will be another rehearsal next Wednesday night.

No Quorum Present at the City Hall on Wednesday, Consequently No Business.

The Board of Health of this City was troubled with the same old complaint yesterday afternoon that it has experienced before. Ridenour, Jefferson McCausland and Dr. George C. Smith. Health Officer Loughran and Sanitary Inspector Ten-Broeck were present. It was stated that the other members of the Board were unavoidably absent. One was in New-York, another was ill, and a third could not attend on account of a wedding in his family.

ICE CROP 'LONG SHORE AND INLAND.

What was Done To-day—The Outlook for Work To-morrow—Notes.

The low temperature that has prevailed along the Hudson River during the past 48 hours has caused ice companies and a small army of laboring men to rejoice. Ice has formed rapidly all the way between Rhinecliff and Albany. Between Hudson and Troy the work of marking, and, in instances, of cutting and storing ice was begun to-day.

Bright and early to-morrow morning, despite the prediction made by the Weather Bureau this forenoon that the weather will be warmer inside of 12 hours, a large force of men and boys will commence work. A number of the companies have decided to harvest night and day until their ice houses are filled.

Special dispatches to THE FREEMAN this afternoon from the principal ice gathering points along shore state that the ice is generally of excellent quality though the cakes do not measure so much in thickness from three to eight inches as that gathered in previous years on or before February 7. As a rule the ice between Tivoli and Albany averages seven inches, and in places it is 10 inches in thickness.

The work of harvesting has been in full blast to-day in the Catskill and Shawangunk ranges of mountains. Cakes housed this afternoon were fully 13 inches in thickness. On lakes, ponds and streams along the river and inland tier of counties many tons of choice ice are being cut.

The fact that for a distance of nearly 50 miles along the Hudson ice will commerce to be stored, to-morrow, causes business men to take a much more brighter view of the trade situation than they have for the past month or more. In round numbers $500,000 are expended by the companies, large and small, between Marlborough and Troy, in gathering the winter's crop. It is true that the outlook for harvesting ice between Rhinecliff and Fishkill, where several of the largest houses are situated, is still very dubious, yet the circumstance that a fine yield seems to be assured between Glasco and Troy, is a matter for congratulation to all concerned.

ICE NOTES.

The ice harvest in the Catskill Creek began on Monday.

Farmers along the Wallkill Creek are securing excellent ice.

Ice men say that there is many a slip between the ice and a crop.

The ice below the ferry at South-Rondout is four inches in thickness.

The Mohonk Lake ice houses are filled with ice nine inches in thickness.

It is said ice can be put in modern ice houses at a cost of 18 cents a ton.

A horse was driven on the River at Hudson yesterday. It was hitched to a "marker."

A gang of Rondout men will commence cutting at Four Mile Point to-morrow morning.

Jacob Corn, of West-Saugerties, has filled his ice house with clear water ice cut from quarry holes.

Pilot George Gage said that the ferry-boat Transport encountered two-inch clear water ice in the Hudson River between Rondout and Rhinecliff on its first trip this morning.

The Rondout Creek is open from its mouth to a point opposite the engine house on the "Island Dock" of the Delaware & Hudson Canal Company. In the cuts between the coal docks, running north and south, the ice is from five to nine inches in thickness. If the present cold weather continues Philip Hoffman will begin the filling of his brewery ice house on Monday.

THE COLD SNAP STOPS NAVIGATION.

A dispatch from Newburgh to THE FREEMAN to day stated: Cold weather continues unabated. The ice thickens rapidly. The Newburgh & New-York line of steamers will make their last trip to-night. They are the only steamers running.

STATE NORMAL SCHOOL, NEW-PALTZ.

Interesting Exercises and Social Events During the Winter Commencement.

The closing rhetorical exercises of the New-Paltz Normal School were held on Tuesday afternoon, January 29, and were creditable. A feature of the Commencement exercises were the public lessons given by teachers in the two departments of the training school. On Friday afternoon the pupils of the Intermediate Department gave a literary programme. The members of the Phi Kappa Pi Society held their first open meeting the same afternoon. The Normal Chapel was filled with friends. Essays were read. In the evening the Second School Sociable of the term was held and proved pleasant and profitable. On Monday afternoon public lessons were given in the Primary Department.

FLAGS PRESENTED TO SCHOOLS.

A notable event occurred in the history of the public schools of Hudson, last evening. The occasion was the presentation of American flags to the schools by the members of R. D. Lathrop Post, No. 138, G. A. R. The exercises were held in the Opera House, which was crowded with people. There were 23 handsome flags presented. They were received by the members of the Board of Education and by them given in charge of the representatives of school classes. The presentation speech was made by General N. M. Curtis, Commander of the New-York State Department of the G. A. R., and the response was made by Captain John V. Whitbeck, President of the Board of Education. The representatives of the classes, who received the flags, also made suitable remarks, and one of them, a girl, recited effectively appropriate lines eulogizing the Stars and Stripes. The occasion was in all respects memorable and patriotic.

NEW LODGE ROOM IN KINGSTON.

The Comfortable Quarters of Franklin Lodge, Knights of Pythias.

The new lodge room of Franklin Lodge, Knights of Pythias, in the Crosby building, Kingston, is large and commodious. The ceiling is 21 feet high, the room 58 feet long and 45 feet wide. There are 21 windows, with a large circular window in the center on the easterly side. The floor has been covered with 400 yards of Hartford body brussels carpet, of a pattern and color agreeable to the eye. The decorations of the walls and ceiling have been made in oil, by a member of the society. They consist of well-executed figures of a battle of Knights, coats of arms, and Knights in armor life-size. The center-piece of the ceiling is a painting of white lilies, emblematic of the order. There are pictures of altars with open Bibles resting upon them representing the three degrees. Upon one is a Bible placed within an olive wreath. A large transparency displays the name of the Lodge. The windows have been painted with the colors of the order, the design being in the form of a clover leaf. On one side of the room are the words: "Franklin Lodge, organized at Kingston March 31, 1870." Platforms have been erected as stations for the Chancellor Commander, Prelate, Vice-Chancellor and Past Chancellor. The room is lighted by a chandelier and 32 gas jets. Two waiting rooms and a paraphernalia room have been added. The Hall will be dedicated February 19.

For to those overwhelmed the night seems long.—Appollodorus.

The special correspondent of THE FREEMAN, at Albany, telegraphed as follows, this afternoon:

"Nelson Stephens, formerly Mayor of Kingston City, was found dead in the Hotel Beck, this morning. He was penniless."

HIS FAMILY DISPOSSESSED.

A press dispatch to THE FREEMAN stated: "He had been discharged from the Department of Public Works and his family had been dispossessed from a house on Clinton-avenue."

A SKETCH OF THE DECEASED.

Nelson Stephens came to this City from Rockland County, where he had been engaged in the manufacture of brick. He followed the same business here in a yard which he purchased near Steep Rocks. Later on he sold it to Mains & Frederick. Then he bought another yard, a short distance north of Washington Point. He was elected an Alderman from the Third Ward and served one term. In the spring of 1886 he was elected Mayor on the Democratic ticket. Before his term expired he sold out his interest in the brick-yard to Manchester & Streeter, and engaged in the same business on a yard that he hired at Castleton. This venture proved a failure, and he returned to Rondout.

PROMISED A POSITION BY DEMOCRATS.

During the recent Presidential election he worked for the Democratic Central Committee, being promised a position in Albany if Hill were elected. On December 15 he moved his family to Albany. He secured a house at 411 Madison-avenue. He found employment in the State Canal Department.

IN OTHER DAYS.

In more prosperous days Mr. Stephens spent money with a free hand.

HIS FAMILY.

He leaves a wife and four children in needy circumstances.

Out of 12 children, six are living, the eldest being nearly 70 years of age. Great-great grandchildren play about Mrs. Barrett's knee. A NARROW ESCAPE AT GLASCO.

Three Men Barely Saved From Being Drowned in the Hudson River.

The correspondent of THE FREEMAN at Glasco writes: "A narrow escape from drowning by breaking through the ice near here yesterday afternoon occurred. The McCarty brothers and Martin Griffin started to cross the Hudson River at Turkey Point. The ice was pretty solid, but there were treacherous places here and there into one of which the three men broke through. Griffin scrambled out without getting much of a soaking, but his companions were not so fortunate. The ice broke all about them and it was soon evident to Griffin that unless help was soon obtained the men could not survive. The attention of a Polander named Enoch Pachesky was attracted finally by the men's cries for help and he hurried to the spot. He brought with him a pole with which Griffin and the Polander pulled the exhausted men from the icy water. They had been underneath 20 minutes, and at first it was supposed they could not be resuscitated. At last reports, however, both men were doing nicely."

SAYS AN ANGEL TOLD HER WHAT TO DO.

The Case of a Young Woman in Schoharie Co. Which Has Attracted Attention.

The case of Flora France, 22 years old, daughter of Austin France, a resident of Seward village, has attracted much attention there and elsewhere in Schoharie County, and has caused people who believe in the faith cure theory to feel exultant.

Miss France is now nearly well and strong, though it is only a little while ago that she was at death's door. She and her friends say that her recovery is due to the instructions she received in a vision. After she had been ill a long time, and for the space of two years had been unable to retain food in her stomach an angel appeared unto her and told her what course she should pursue, at the same time stating that if she obeyed the instructions implicitly her bodily ailments would speedily disappear. Miss France arose from her bed and was weighed. She scarcely tipped the beam at 50 pounds. Then she gave thanks and ate a hearty supper.

She hasn't seen any more angels, and doctors don't care to say anything about the case.

WANTED: BETTER ROADS

IN ULSTER COUNTY AND IN THE CATSKILL MOUNTAINS.

A Plea that Meets with Favorable Responses in Certain Localities—A Division Which Does not Work Well—Advice and Suggestions.

So much power has custom over certain minds.—Virgil.

The following article upon country roads, from the Philadelphia Press, will be read with interest by the people of Ulster County and the Catskill Mountains, where so many thousands of people spend the summer:

GOVERNOR BEAVER'S PLEA.

Governor Beaver's plea for better roads meets with a favoring response from the press inside and outside of Pennsylvania. Pennsylvania is no worse off than most of the other states in the matter of public roads, and is better off than some. Bad public highways are a National evil. The wealth, invention, and care that would have gone to public roadways under other conditions have been diverted to the construction and perfection of the roadbeds of railways. Governor Beaver struck a popular chord when he asked for better roads in this State, and the Legislature will do no wiser and more politic thing than to carry out his suggestions and make a beginning, at least, of the long-delayed and long-needed reform in the public roads of Pennsylvania.

WHAT GOVEROR AMES HAS SAID.

Governor Ames, of Massachusetts, has urged the necessity of the same improvement in his annual message, and an organized movement in behalf of road legislation is in progress in Northern New-Jersey. The plan proposed by the residents about Elizabeth, Rahway, Plainfield and other villa towns in the same neighborhood, is to have certain main roads turned over to the County Board of Freeholders or to some commission, and then roads are to be built, maintained and managed by the County authorities. The New-York Evening Post recently made a like suggestion, urging that a separation be made between the control of the trunk highways in a county and the intersecting roads. The former would be turned over to the county authorities and paid for by county taxation, and the latter continued under the present township management.

STATE, COUNTY AND TOWNSHIP ROADS.

This division, which looks well on paper, has been in force for years in Ohio without in the least improving its "mud roads." These are divided into state, county and township roads, as they are in two or more counties, in one, or in a township. With work done by the day system, however, this division of management left the roads as they were. The only good roads in Ohio have been made under a free-pike act, which permits a county by a special election to levy a tax in addition to the road tax for the construction of free turnpikes. In counties where this has been done, and where a sharp gravel furnishes a good roadbed, Judge W. R. Lawrence reported in 1883 that the value of farms had been increased full 25 per cent. by these roads.

ROAD BUILDING REQUIRES TRAINED SKILL.

No change, however, will work which does not recognize, first, that road building requires trained skill, and, second, that the present plan of letting farmers "work out" a road tax is antiquated. "Good road construction in Europe," says the Engineering News, "enlists the services of the best engineers the country can afford." These men conduct all the work, hire all the labor, and pay out all the money. A. J. Cassatt's term as Roadmaster a few years ago shows what can be done by an engineer of the first rank, who devotes himself to the task of making good roads under present conditions. But every road district cannot have a Mr. Cassatt. Without such direction a vast deal of labor is expended on roads without the slightest result. Paying taxes in kind is a relic of barbarous conditions. It ought to be abolished. Of course, if the farmers prefer the system of working out their road tax to a system of good roads, American country roads will remain in their present condition. The tax will continue to be paid, its aggregate amount will be enough to give good roads, and it will all be wasted. The roads will remain what they are—the worst in any civilized country.

REFORM NEEDED.

It ought, however, to be possible in the eastern counties of this State, which are filling up with country seats big and little, to introduce a reform. To be effectual this must require;

PREREQUISITES.

First—The payment of all road taxes in money.

Second—The employment of a skilled engineer to oversee the work both of the county and the townships.

Third—The selection of the main routes on which good roads should be both built and maintained by county authority.

ALLEGED ASSAULT ON A COACHMAN.

General Opinion Appears to be that Decker Was Thrown Out of the Carriage.

People here still show considerable interest in the matter of the assault, as claimed, upon Leonard Decker, coachman of William R. Sheffield, of Saugerties. Joseph DeGraff paid a visit to the place where the team was found at the Shufeldt house and traced footsteps from the place where the man had been thrown from his wagon, across the lots to the house of the farmer of William M Hayes. He found blood in several places. This investigation, coupled with the fact that a man who said his name was Decker rapped at the door of this house, makes it clear that Decker, after being thrown out of the wagon, was so confused that he left his team and went across the Lowlands instead of following the road back to Kingston. Isaac Roosa, of Kingston, on the afternoon when Decker took the team from the Eagle Hotel, says he was looking out of the window of his office, near by, and saw the team come out of the drive-way of the hotel and turn toward Fair-street. He does not know Decker, but he saw the team when it was first brought to the Eagle Hotel, and noticed the tails of the horses were very muddy. He was then told that it was Sheffield's team. When the team, later in the afternoon, was driven out and turned toward Fair-street, Roosa noticed that the tails of the horses were still muddy, and wondered why the coachman had not taken better care of the horses.

KINGSTON PHILHARMONIC SOCIETY.

A Successful Rehearsal Held at the City Hall Last Night.

There was a fair attendance at the rehearsal of the Kingston City Philharmonic Society, last night, at the City Hall. Professor Hulslander conducted the singing. Several numbers were practiced. The first was a pretty English glee, in C major by Sir Henry Bishop, entitled "What Phrase Sad and Soft." It begins with a tenor solo, then follows a soprano solo, a duet between the soprano and alto, a quartette and chorus. The second, a comparatively new one, by Roeckel, a popular French song writer. It is a four-part song, "Madelime." The third, a chorus for female voices entitled "Old German Shepherd's Song," by Kienzl, and fourth, a humorous fugue by Caldicott entitled "Little Jack Horner." There will be another rehearsal next Wednesday night.

It was stated that the other members of the Board were unavoidably absent. One was in New-York, another was ill, and a third could not attend on account of a wedding in his family.

ICE CROP 'LONG SHORE AND INLAND.

What was Done To-day—The Outlook for Work To-morrow—Notes.

The low temperature that has prevailed along the Hudson River during the past 48 hours has caused ice companies and a small army of laboring men to rejoice. Ice has formed rapidly all the way between Rhinecliff and Albany. Between Hudson and Troy the work of marking, and, in instances, of cutting and storing ice was begun to-day.

Bright and early to-morrow morning, despite the prediction made by the Weather Bureau this forenoon that the weather will be warmer inside of 12 hours, a large force of men and boys will commence work. A number of the companies have decided to harvest night and day until their ice houses are filled.

Special dispatches to THE FREEMAN this afternoon from the principal ice gathering points along shore state that the ice is generally of excellent quality though the cakes do not measure so much in thickness from three to eight inches as that gathered in previous years on or before February 7. As a rule the ice between Tivoli and Albany averages seven inches, and in places it is 10 inches in thickness.

The work of harvesting has been in full blast to-day in the Catskill and Shawangunk ranges of mountains. Cakes housed this afternoon were fully 13 inches in thickness. On lakes, ponds and streams along the river and inland tier of counties many tons of choice ice are being cut.

The fact that for a distance of nearly 50 miles along the Hudson ice will commence to be stored, to-morrow, causes business men to take a much more brighter view of the trade situation than they have for the past month or more. In round numbers $500,000 are expended by the companies, large and small, between Marlborough and Troy, in gathering the winter's crop. It is true that the outlook for harvesting ice between Rhinecliff and Fishkill, where several of the largest houses are situated, is still very dubious, yet the circumstance that a fine yield seems to be assured between Glasco and Troy, is a matter for congratulation to all concerned.

ICE NOTES.

The ice harvest in the Catskill Creek began on Monday.

Farmers along the Wallkill Creek are securing excellent ice.

Ice men say that there is many a slip between the ice and a crop.

The ice below the ferry at South-Rondout is four inches in thickness.

The Mohonk Lake ice houses are filled with ice nine inches in thickness.

It is said ice can be put in modern ice houses at a cost of 18 cents a ton.

A horse was driven on the River at Hudson yesterday. It was hitched to a "marker."

A gang of Rondout men will commence cutting at Four Mile Point to-morrow morning.

Jacob Corn, of West-Saugerties, has filled his ice house with clear water ice cut from quarry holes.

Pilot George Gage said that the ferry-boat Transport encountered two-inch clear water ice in the Hudson River between Rondout and Rhinecliff on its first trip this morning.

The Rondout Creek is open from its mouth to a point opposite the engine house on the "Island Dock" of the Delaware & Hudson Canal Company. In the cuts between the coal docks, running north and south, the ice is from five to nine inches in thickness. If the present cold weather continues Philip Hoffman will begin the filling of his brewery ice house on Monday.

THE COLD SNAP STOPS NAVIGATION.

A dispatch from Newburgh to THE FREEMAN to-day stated: Cold weather continues unabated. The ice thickens rapidly. The Newburgh & New-York line of steamers will make their last trip to-night. They are the only steamers running.

STATE NORMAL SCHOOL, NEW-PALTZ.

Interesting Exercises and Social Events During the Winter Commencement.

The closing rhetorical exercises of the New-Paltz Normal School were held on Tuesday afternoon, January 29, and were creditable. A feature of the Commencement exercises were the public lessons given by teachers in the two departments of the training school. On Friday afternoon the pupils of the Intermediate Department gave a literary programme. The members of the Phi Kappa Pi Society held their first open meeting the same afternoon. The Normal Chapel was filled with friends. Essays were read. In the evening the Second School Sociable of the term was held and proved pleasant and profitable. On Monday afternoon public lessons were given in the Primary Department.

FLAGS PRESENTED TO SCHOOLS.

A notable event occurred in the history of the public schools of Hudson, last evening. The occasion was the presentation of American flags to the schools by the members of R. D. Lathrop Post, No. 138, G. A. R. The exercises were held in the Opera House, which was crowded with people. There were 23 handsome flags presented. They were received by the members of the Board of Education and by them given in charge of the representatives of school classes. The presentation speech was made by General N. M. Curtis, Commander of the New-York State Department of the G. A. R., and the response was made by Captain John V. Whitbeck, President of the Board of Education. The representatives of the classes, who received the flags, also made suitable remarks, and one of them, a girl, recited effectively appropriate lines eulogizing the Stars and Stripes. The occasion was in all respects memorable and patriotic.

NEW LODGE ROOM IN KINGSTON.

The Comfortable Quarters of Franklin Lodge, Knights of Pythias.

The new lodge room of Franklin Lodge, Knights of Pythias, in the Crosby building, Kingston, is large and commodious. The ceiling is 21 feet high, the room 58 feet long and 45 feet wide. There are 21 windows, with a large circular window in the center on the easterly side. The floor has been covered with 400 yards of Hartford body brussels carpet, of a pattern and color agreeable to the eye. The decorations of the walls and ceiling have been made in oil, by a member of the society. They consist of well-executed figures of a battle of Knights, coats of arms, and Knights in armor life-size. The center-piece of the ceiling is a painting of white lilies, emblematic of the order. There are pictures of altars with open Bibles resting upon them representing the three degrees. Upon one is a Bible placed within an olive wreath. A large transparency displays the name of the Lodge. The windows have been painted with the colors of the order, the design being in the form of a clover leaf. On one side of the room are the words: "Franklin Lodge, organized at Kingston March 31, 1870." Platforms have been erected as stations for the Chancellor Commander, Prelate, Vice-Chancellor and Past Chancellor. The room is lighted by a chandelier and 32 gas jets. Two waiting rooms and a paraphernalia room have been added. The Hall will be dedicated February 19.

Does Not Take Much to Excite Pearl-Street.

There was "a sensation" on Pearl-street, Kingston, one night this week. A young man mistook a private house for his boarding house and tried to enter it with a latch-key. The lord of the mansion, armed with revolvers and ammunition, came to the door and convinced the intruder of his mistake.

NELSON STEPHENS' END.

HE COMMITTED SUICIDE IN ALBANY THIS MORNING.

The Ex-Mayor of this City was Penniless—He Locked Himself in a Room in a Hotel and "Turned on the Gas"—The Facts Related.

For to those overwhelmed the night seems long.—Appollodorus.

The special correspondent of THE FREEMAN, at Albany, telegraphed as follows, this afternoon:

IN THE HOTEL BECK.

"Nelson Stephens, formerly Mayor of Kingston City, was found dead in the Hotel Beck, this morning. He was penniless."

"TURNED ON THE GAS."

"He went into the hotel at 2:30 o'clock, this morning, and was shown a room. He closed it tightly and turned on the gas."

DESPONDENT AND OUT OF WORK.

"He was despondent, having been discharged from employment on the canal works, February 2."

HIS FAMILY DISPOSSESSED.

A press dispatch to THE FREEMAN stated: "He had been discharged from the Department of Public Works and his family had been dispossessed from a house on Clinton-avenue."

A SKETCH OF THE DECEASED.

Nelson Stephens came to this City from Rockland County, where he had been engaged in the manufacture of brick. He followed the same business here in a yard which he purchased near Steep Rocks. Later on he sold it to Mains & Frederick. Then he bought another yard, a short distance north of Washington Point. He was elected an Alderman from the Third Ward and served one term. In the spring of 1886 he was elected Mayor on the Democratic ticket. Before his term expired he sold out his interest in the brick-yard to Manchester & Streeter, and engaged in the same business on a yard that he hired at Castleton. This venture proved a failure, and he returned to Rondout.

PROMISED A POSITION BY DEMOCRATS.

During the recent Presidential election he worked for the Democratic Central Committee, being promised a position in Albany if Hill were elected. On December 15 he moved his family to Albany. He secured a house at 411 Madison-avenue. He found employment in the State Canal Department.

IN OTHER DAYS.

In more prosperous days Mr. Stephens spent money with a free hand.

HIS FAMILY.

He leaves a wife and four children in needy circumstances.

It will run at street cars and bite the back platforms. It tries to seize hold of the wheels of wagons. Teamsters "lay" for this dog with a long whip and exercise their ingenuity to abate the nuisance, but the dog is cute enough to avoid the blows and is rarely injured.

An Orange County woman, who is somewhat addicted to the use of liquor, came to Newburgh on Saturday with two small children. She was on her way to New-York City to visit relatives. In Newburgh she met friends and they had drinks together. By the time she reached the Hudson River Railroad station at Fishkill she was probably too drunk to board the train and was arrested by an officer. A carriage was procured to take the mother and children to the lock-up. The cries of the children interested people in the case and after the mother and children had been placed in the lock-up kind hearted people had them removed to a hotel. Police Justice Rogers, of Fishkill Landing, spent two hours at the hotel on Sunday forenoon making an examination into the case and after giving the woman some good advice allowed her to proceed to New-York City.

An interesting celebration occurred at the residence of Mrs. Sarah Drew Barrett, Carmel, one day recently. The occasion was in honor of Mrs. Barrett's birthday, the old lady being 102 years of age. Numerous relatives and friends were present to help make glad the festive occasion. Many ancient relics were exhibited, among them being a piece of figured cotton cloth, spun and woven, by the hands of one of Mrs. Barrett's ancestors over 200 years ago. A quaint tea kettle, priceless old china and pieces of silver, little the worse for their 12 and 13 decades of active service, were used on the table at which Mrs. Barrett so happily presided. Out of 12 children, six are living, the eldest being nearly 70 years of age. Great-great grandchildren play about Mrs. Barrett's knee. The old lady is in the possession of all her faculties and promises to live many years longer. "At all events," said she quaintly to a prematurely aged guest, who was present at the anniversay, "I shall not die young."

The banquet to be given in the Delevan House, Albany, on Wednesday evening, February 13, by the Holland Society, of New-York, will be an event in the history of the direct descendants of the old Dutch families living there and along the Hudson River. Among those who are expected to grace the occasion with their presence are: Ex-Judge VanVorst, of New-York City; Comptroller Edward Wemple, Mayor T. Low Barhydt, Schenectady; A. T. Clearwater, of Kingston, a Vice-President of the Society; Hon. John VanSchaick, of Cobleskill, and many others. Prominent among the members of the Society is the Hon. Robert B. Roosevelt, United States Minister to the Hague. The dinner will probably bring about one of the most distinguished gatherings of the representatives of the old Dutch families ever held in Albany.

A NARROW ESCAPE AT GLASCO.

Three Men Barely Saved From Being Drowned in the Hudson River.

The correspondent of THE FREEMAN at Glasco writes: "A narrow escape from drowning by breaking through the ice near here yesterday afternoon occurred. The McCarty brothers and Martin Griffin started to cross the Hudson River at Turkey Point. The ice was pretty solid, but there were treacherous places here and there into one of which the three men broke through. Griffin scrambled out without getting much of a soaking, but his companions were not so fortunate. The ice broke all about them and it was soon evident to Griffin that unless help was soon obtained the men could not survive. The attention of a Polander named Enoch Pachesky was attracted finally by the men's cries for help and he hurried to the spot. He brought with him a pole with which Griffin and the Polander pulled the exhausted men from the icy water. They had been underneath 20 minutes, and at first it was supposed they could not be resuscitated. At last reports, however, both men were doing nicely."

SAYS AN ANGEL TOLD HER WHAT TO DO.

The Case of a Young Woman in Schoharie Co. Which Has Attracted Attention.

The case of Flora France, 22 years old, daughter of Austin France, a resident of Seward village, has attracted much attention there and elsewhere in Schoharie County, and has caused people who believe in the faith cure theory to feel exultant.

Miss France is now nearly well and strong, though it is only a little while ago that she was at death's door. She and her friends say that her recovery is due to the instructions she received in a vision. After she had been ill a long time, and for the space of two years had been unable to retain food in her stomach an angel appeared unto her and told her what course she should pursue, at the same time stating that if she obeyed the instructions implicitly her bodily ailments would speedily disappear. Miss France arose from her bed and was weighed. She scarcely tipped the beam at 50 pounds. Then she gave thanks and ate a hearty supper.

She hasn't seen any more angels, and doctors don't care to say anything about the case.

WANTED: BETTER ROADS

IN ULSTER COUNTY AND IN THE CATSKILL MOUNTAINS.

A Plea that Meets with Favorable Responses in Certain Localities—A Division Which Does not Work Well—Advice and Suggestions.

So much power has custom over certain minds.—Virgil.

The following article upon country roads, from the Philadelphia Press, will be read with interest by the people of Ulster County and the Catskill Mountains, where so many thousands of people spend the summer:

GOVERNOR BEAVER'S PLEA.

Governor Beaver's plea for better roads meets with a favoring response from the press inside and outside of Pennsylvania. Pennsylvania is no worse off than most of the other states in the matter of public roads, and is better off than some. Bad public highways are a National evil. The wealth, invention, and care that would have gone to public roadways under other conditions have been diverted to the construction and perfection of the roadbeds of railways. Governor Beaver struck a popular chord when he asked for better roads in this State, and the Legislature will do no wiser and more politic thing than to carry out his suggestions and make a beginning, at least, of the long-delayed and long-needed reform in the public roads of Pennsylvania.

WHAT GOVEROR AMES HAS SAID.

Governor Ames, of Massachusetts, has urged the necessity of the same improvement in his annual message, and an organized movement in behalf of road legislation is in progress in Northern New-Jersey. The plan proposed by the residents about Elizabeth, Rahway, Plainfield and other villa towns in the same neighborhood, is to have certain main roads turned over to the County Board of Freeholders or to some commission, and then roads are to be built, maintained and managed by the County authorities. The New-York Evening Post recently made a like suggestion, urging that a separation be made between the control of the trunk highways in a county and the intersecting roads. The former would be turned over to the county authorities and paid for by county taxation, and the latter continued under the present township management.

STATE, COUNTY AND TOWNSHIP ROADS.

This division, which looks well on paper, has been in force for years in Ohio without in the least improving its "mud roads." These are divided into state, county and township roads, as they are in two or more counties, in one, or in a township. With work done by the day system, however, this division of management left the roads as they were. The only good roads in Ohio have been made under a free-pike act, which permits a county by a special election to levy a tax in addition to the road tax for the construction of free turnpikes. In counties where this has been done, and where a sharp gravel furnishes a good roadbed, Judge W. R. Lawrence reported in 1883 that the value of farms had been increased full 25 per cent. by these roads.

ROAD BUILDING REQUIRES TRAINED SKILL.

No change, however, will work which does not recognize, first, that road building requires trained skill, and, second, that the present plan of letting farmers "work out" a road tax is antiquated. "Good road construction in Europe," says the Engineering News, "enlists the services of the best engineers the country can afford." These men conduct all the work, hire all the labor, and pay out all the money. A. J. Cassatt's term as Roadmaster a few years ago shows what can be done by an engineer of the first rank, who devotes himself to the task of making good roads under present conditions. But every road district cannot have a Mr. Cassatt. Without such direction a vast deal of labor is expended on roads without the slightest result. Paying taxes in kind is a relic of barbarous conditions. It ought to be abolished. Of course, if the farmers prefer the system of working out their road tax to a system of good roads, American country roads will remain in their present condition. The tax will continue to be paid, its aggregate amount will be enough to give good roads, and it will all be wasted. The roads will remain what they are—the worst in any civilized country.

REFORM NEEDED.

It ought, however, to be possible in the eastern counties of this State, which are filling up with country seats big and little, to introduce a reform. To be effectual this must require;

PREREQUISITES.

First—The payment of all road taxes in money.

Second—The employment of a skilled engineer to oversee the work both of the county and the townships.

Third—The selection of the main routes on which good roads should be both built and maintained by county authority.

NOTES ON NEWS OF THE DAY.

SECRETARY BAYARD has accepted Bismarck's proposition for a resumption at Berlin of the conference begun in Washington in 1887 in regard to Samoa. The Chancellor will hardly have time to outwit our Premier as England has done, because in four weeks another statesman will be in charge of the American side of the conference.

MR. CLEVELAND and wife spent yesterday in New York, returning to Washington on the midnight train. Aside from the purchase of some dresses and bonnets for Mrs. Cleveland, the nature of their errand was not known. The President avoided reporters and statesmen, and conducted himself like any other gentleman who is thinking of going out of politics.

THE latest Cabinet surmise is that Hon. Wm. Windom is to be made Secretary of the Treasury and credited to New York. Mr. Windom removed to New York city on his retirement from the Senate in 1883. It is predicted that Gen. Harrison will take this course to solve the New York problem, thus satisfying the party in this state and getting a man of Western antecedents and training at the same time.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND and Gov. Hill held no conversation together at the Whitney dinner in Washington last Tuesday. They formally recognized each other and that was all. In the evening Whitney gave a brilliant reception to the Governor, but Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland neither came nor sent their regrets. They left for New York while Hill was still in the city, and found our state under the mild control of acting Governor Jones.

THE Democratic New Jersey Legislature has decided by caucus not to repeal the local option bill. A new bill is to be framed and introduced which will repeal the entire law and re-enact the high license part, but it is not expected to pass. The New Jersey Democrats have been learning something about public sentiment and feeling on the matter since they proposed to abolish the aw.

WHEN Princess Stephanie was wedded to the late Crown Prince Rudolf of Austria, she was described as the most beautiful Princess in Europe. But now in her widowhood Labouchere describes her as "wholly uninteresting and anything but pretty." He thinks that "if she had been a chambermaid in a hotel nobody would have noticed her, so commonplace was her physiognomy." Alas! the "beautiful" princess has nobody to defend her now.

LIEUT. GOV. JONES stated his plan of employing convict labor at the meeting of the Patrons of Husbandry in Syracuse yesterday. He would pay the prisoners full wages for their labor, and after deducting a fair price for board, clothing, medical attendance, etc., apply the rest of their earnings to their credit or the support of their families. This would make each prison a big boarding house for workingmen. And it might also tempt many who cannot find honest work to get into prison.

THE Washington correspondent of the Boston Globe says Mr. Cleveland, during his four years at Washington, has not entered more than two residences in that city outside of the Cabinet circle, has never seen Congress at work, and has never entered a Department building. He has never walked Pennsylvania avenue like Grant, or taken a drink across a Washington bar like Buchanan. There has now and then been an entire week when he has not once put on his hat and gone out of doors. All he knows about Washington and its ways he has heard.

THE strike of the Brooklyn street railroad men collapsed yesterday. President Richardson refused to re-employ any of the strikers except upon signing an agreement to abandon the Knights of Labor and to keep clear from every labor organization, and even then they were given to understand that none of the men who had been employed during the strike would be discharged to make places for them. These rather severe terms were gladly accepted. Your brave, defiant striker has the appearance of a very humble individual when crawling out of the little end of the horn.

THE Albany Argus is so mad over the Democratic defeat that it growls about the excess of corruption in the country districts and asserts that "at the fall election the farmers in many parts of the state were bought up like a flock of sheep." As the farmers are and always have been the backbone of the Republican party, and as that party won at the last election, this is an infamous lie. The truth is that the farmers could not be bought, though one of our leading Democratic authorities has borne testimony that the price of votes (Democratic) suddenly went up from $1 to $25 a head.

To show the inequality of Legislative representation and the need of a new enumeration and apportionment, Democratic newspapers are pointing to the votes in Putnam county and the 23d district of New York. Putnam cast 3,687 and the New York district 24,315 votes for Assembly at the late election. Of course the smallness of the Putnam vote is not due to the failure to apportion the state, for Putnam is a county, and as such is entitled to a member under the constitution. But there are other inequalities for which there is no excuse in the constitution. Thus the fifth district of Kings county cast 4,809 votes while the eleventh district of the same county cast 24,833. These districts were apportioned by a Democratic Board of Supervisors. The small one is Democratic and the large one Republican. In New York where the 23d district cast the large vote complained of, the eleventh cast only 7,147. These districts were apportioned by a Democratic Board of Aldermen. The average vote of the New York Assembly districts was 10,950. This can hardly be called excessive, for Allegany county cast 12,031, Broome 15,539, Chemung 11,866, Delaware 12,549, Herkimer 12,484, Madison 12,311, Montgomery 12,170, Ontario 12,687, and Suffolk 14,216. These counties elect a single member each. In Onondaga the average per district is 11,391, in Oneida 9,380, in Dutchess 9,972, in Erie 12,659, in Albany 9,993, in Monroe 12,311, in Orange 11,314, in Oswego 9,518, in Queens 11,821, and in Westchester 9,755. There does not really appear in these figures any startling inequality under the present apportionment except in the smaller counties, which would remain entitled to a member under the constitution even if they cast but a single vote.

The Recent Strike in New-York City—A New Excise Bill Introduced.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

ALBANY, Feb. 7.—In the Assembly, today, Longley offered resolutions relating to the horse railroad strikes in New-York and Brooklyn and requiring the Judiciary Committee to consider and determine whether it would be expedient to invest the State Board of Railroad Commissioners or State Board of Arbitration with sufficient powers and authority to intervene of their own motion between street railroad companies and their employes, between whom disputes or controversies may arise that shall threaten the suspension or interruption of travel, and summarily settle the same. In case the Commission shall determine this question negatively, they are instructed to formulate and present such a bill as will, in their judgment, prevent a recurrence of the troubles referred to. The resolution was referred to the Committee on Railroads.

THE STATE PRISONS.

Crosby called up his resolution directing the Superintendent of State Prisons to report within 10 days the effect of the legislation of July, 1888, on the mental, and physical condition of prisoners in the State Prisons and including also a statement from the warden of each State Prison. Yates offered an amendment, which was adopted, requiring information as to the manner in which the law has been carried into effect and to what extent prisoners have been employed; also what clothing and necessary supplies have been furnished to the several State institutions and the manner in which such clothing and supplies have been manufactured. Crosby also offered an amendment, which was adopted, requiring the State Prison Superintendent to report also the proportion of prisoners in his charge who are or can be supplied with work under existing law. The resolution was adopted as amended.

GENERAL CURTIS' HIGH LICENSE BILL.

General Curtis introduced his high license bill, to day with the statement that he prepared it without the assistance of or suggestion from any one.

FORTY-TWO SECTIONS.

The bill comprises 42 sections. The bill is based on the law of 1857, [Chapter 628] and upon subsequent amendments and the bill of the Excise Commission. The first section is partly similar to the same section of the Commissions bill and partly new. It prohibits giving away liquor in places of public resort. Section 2 of the Curtis bill is Section 1 of the Law of 1857 with some amendments and provides that on the second Tuesday of April next three Excise Commissioners shall be appointed by the County Judge and two Justices of the Sessions or a majority of them, of which the County Judge shall be one in each of the counties of the State—except the County of New-York wherein the Chief Justice of the Superior Court and the presiding Judge of the Court of Common Pleas and the Recorder of the City, or any two of them, shall appoint. The First Commissioner shall hold office until January 1, 1891, the second two years longer, and the third until January 1, 1895. The other Commissioners are to be appointed in turn to fill these vacancies.

CLUBS AS SALOONS.

Clubs throughout the bill are regarded as soloons, as also are liquor-selling eating houses. The salaries of the Commissioners are as follows: In counties of over 800,000 inhabitants $5,000 per annum; less than 800,000 or more than 400,000, $2,500. All other counties $5 per day for actual services.

LICENSE TO EVERY 500 INHABITANTS.

After the passage of the bill no licenses shall be issued in excess of one to every 500 inhabitants. Section 13 fixes the fee for licenses as follows: For full liquor license in cities of 100,000 or more inhabitants, $500; in cities of less than 100,000 inhabitants $250; in villages and towns, $125. Wine, ale, beer, licenses to saloon keepers, are, in cities of 100,000 or more inhabitants, $300; in smaller cities, $200; in towns and villages, $100. Store-keepers' licenses, allowing sales of liquors when not to be drunk on the premises and in unbroken packages only, are $250, $150 and $75 respectively. Druggists' licenses, permitting the sale of liquor on a physician's certificate, are $25. Other druggists are licensed as store-keepers. Eating house licenses and eating houses must be such in the spirit of the term are licensed at $300, $200 and $100 respectively, according to the size of cities as classified above. Hotels must have, in cities of 50,000 or more inhabitants, at least 15 bedrooms; in small places at least 10.

OTHER SECTIONS.

Section 14 increases the penalties for violations to $100 for each offense. Section 15 increases the penalties for giving or selling liquor to prohibited persons to $75 for each offense. Section 18 makes the penalty for selling or giving liquor to any intoxicated person $25. Section 21 limits the time when liquor cannot be sold. Section 40 repeals all existing excise laws. The date when the law is to take effect is left blank.

ON LAND AND ON THE SEA.

A TERRIBLE DISASTER REPORTED.

Many Lives Lost—A Large Ship Goes to the Bottom.

By Cable to The Freeman.

LONDON, Feb. 7.—It has been ascertained beyond a doubt that the steamer which was sunk in collision with the British bark Largo Bay, off Beachy Head, Monday night, was the Glencoe. It was bound from Liverpool for London, and carried a crew of 54 men, all of whom were doubtless drowned.

THE GLENCOE.

The Glencoe was a three-masted iron screw steamer of 1,901 tons. It was built at Glasgow in 1878, and was rated 100 A 1.

A TERRIBLE CRASH.

The force of the collision was so great that the fore-mast of the Largo Bay was jerked out and fell across its deck-house, crushing it.

A TEMPEST WAS RAGING.

A wild tempest was raging and snow was falling so thickly that it was impossible for the look-out on either vessels to see the lights of the other until the collision was inevitable. The Glencoe forged ahead, trying to cross the Largo Bay's bow, but failed to do so and ran at full speed into the bark, demolishing 10 feet of its bow. The Largo Bay would also have sunk had it not been provided with water-tight sections. The suddenness of the shock dazed the crew of the bark.

STRUGGLING IN THE WATER.

They saw nothing further of the steamer, but could make out its crew struggling in the water. It was impossible, however, to render them any assistance, all of the Largo Bay's boats being smashed. The wind blew with such force that the sails of the bark were torn to shreds, and a boy was carried overboard. The bark weathered the storm until it was rescued and towed into Cowes.

Weather Indications.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—Indications for Friday: Fair, decidedly warmer, westerly winds.

"THE BLOODY SHIRT."

Democratic papers have not yet had much to say in derision of the murder of John M. Clayton of Arkansas; they have not even spoken of Republican denunciations of it sneeringly as an attempt to revive the "bloody shirt." The crime is too awful to permit of this; its political purpose is so plain that even the old defenders of every Southern crime stand appalled. The Brooklyn Eagle has had the courage to brand the crime as a Democratic murder, and to declare that it would rather that every Democratic district in the country had been lost than to know of such a crime. The Little Rock Gazette, also Democratic, deplores it because "it comes at the end of fourteen years of peace and quiet, of local self-government by the bona fide citizens of the state, and at the close of four years of national Democratic rule, in the success of which the conduct of the Southern states has been a vital issue." "In the name of heaven," it cries, "is not this enough to put an end to criminal politics?" It characterizes the act as "the natural consequence of the crime that preceded it at Plummerville," the stealing of the ballot-box that contained a Republican majority of 500 votes.

The Democratic Macon Telegraph says the crime "was the outcome of the fears of debased and reckless men, who were willing to commit the blackest crime in the hope of thereby preventing the discovery of a lesser one"—"the stealing of the ballot boxes after the election last November, before the votes were counted." The Arkansas Democrat says the murder "belongs to a character of crime which must be put down in Arkansas if we would be saved from barbarism. It is one of the results of ballot-box robbery." The Petersburg Index-Appeal and the Nashville American make similar admissions that the crime was a political and a Democratic one. None of the papers quoted has a word of ridicule for the "bloody shirt." They are forced at last to wave it themselves.

This may be but a spasm; it is probable that in a few weeks our esteemed Democratic contemporaries will be reprobating further reference to it as an attempt to revive sectional issues or the memories of the war, and imploring us once more to let "bygones be bygones." In anticipation of this change of feeling, we take the opportunity while the Democratic heart is yet tender to produce a list of other crimes of a similar character, every one of which had a political object and was committed by Democrats, and not one of which ever drew forth a word of regret from Democratic sources. In regard to every one of the following catalogue of murders, we distinctly remember that they were from the outset defended or extenuated by Democratic newspapers at the North, while Republican newspapers were warned that any uncomplimentary comment upon them would fire the Southern heart and cause a long and dangerous delay to the greatly desired return of the era of good feeling. If the murder of Clayton is exceptional or more horrible than any of the following, we fail to discern the difference. The paragraph which we quote is from the Cleveland (Ohio) Leader:

The assassination of Mr. Clayton calls to mind also, the brutal murder of Senator Stevens, who was hanged by a mob in the Court House at Yanceyville, N. C., in April, 1870; the attack upon Senator Twitchell at Coushatta, La., in August, 1874, in which Twitchell's brother-in-law was killed and he was so wounded that both of his arms had to be amputated—the crime being carried out to secure Democratic control of the state Senate; the assassination of James L. Ivey and W. P. Billings in Alabama in 1874; the fiendish murder of Hon. John Patterson of Mississippi in 1874, who was hanged by a mob, which stole $1,400 from his person, that he asked his murderers to give to his sisters, and contributed it to the Democratic campaign fund; the assassination of Dr. D. B. Dinkgrave and Don A. Weber in Louisiana in 1876; the atrocious murder of Judge W. W. Chisholm, his little son and daughter and two of his friends by a mob, in Kemper county, Mississippi, in April, 1877; the assassination of Capt. Henry M. Dixon, at Yazoo, Miss., in 1878; the assassination of J. P. Matthews, a prominent merchant, at Copiah, Miss., in 1883, while attempting to vote in spite of a warning to keep away from the polls; the murder of A. W. Barrett, at the same place a few days later, and the assassination of Col. L. W. Blair at Camden, N. C., on July 4, 1882. Every one of these was a political murder. Every one killed was a Republican. In every case they were shot down without warning in the most cowardly manner. In not a single case that we remember were the murderers punished, although well known.

Now this is a terrible chapter of history. The record is kept up pretty steadily till 1883, covering at least eight of the "fourteen years of peace and quiet, of local self government" mentioned by the Little Rock Gazette. Murder is the Southern Democratic last resort at all times and seasons and under all conditions, when a political object is to be attained. The Clayton murder is not a whit more revolting than the beating to death of Mr. Benjamin in the same county on the day of the September election; there is no more atrocity about it than the attempted murder of Supervisor Wahl a month and a half earlier while engaged in the Clayton investigation, and whose life was saved because the bullet missed a vital part. To-day Arkansas, Mississippi and Florida men are hiding themselves from the fury of Democratic mobs because they have presumed to engage in the work of contesting the claims of Democratic candidates for Congress who owe their alleged elections to frauds. Democratic newspapers groan over the murder of Clayton which has become so conspicuous as to endanger the supremacy of assassination, but the same papers are silent over what has been going on in the second district of Florida and the second and third districts of Mississippi, in every one of which political murder has been plotted and its intentions avowed for the prevention of the taking of testimony in a Congressional contest.

THE CRIME OF DOUBLE MURDER.

The fashion is growing for the intending suicide to make sure of the murder of a female victim before taking his own life. This double crime is one of the most common on the list of murders, and a day seldom passes without the report of one or two. In Philadelphia last week a man killed the young woman whom he had deceived in the street, and then went home and cut the throat of his wife before turning the weapon upon himself. This cannot happen frequently, but one case suffices to show that the self-murderer uses little discrimination; any woman who has sustained relations of affection with him is satisfactory food for his powder.

One of the awfulest of these crimes was committed in Chicago yesterday, and, by the way, three double murders have happened in that city within five days. The other two cases were those of men who shot women for refusing to marry them and then killed themselves. The suicide and murderer yesterday was Walter S. Bradley, a reporter on the Globe, and the victim was his wife. The latter was also a newspaper writer, and was engaged as the dramatic critic on the same paper. The tragedy took place in the Cortland Hotel at 10 A. M. The couple had had a serious quarrel in their rooms on Friday last, and the husband was prevented from choking the woman to death by the clerk, who heard her gasping for breath and forced his way into the room. Bradley promptly left the hotel and did not return until yesterday morning.

Mrs. Bradley told Mr. Evans, the proprietor of the hotel, Tuesday evening, that she expected her husband in the morning, and asked him to be ready to protect her. When Bradley came in he found his wife in the parlor conversing with Mrs. Evans. Taking a seat on the piano stool he began a commonplace conversation with his wife, and while it was in progress the other lady went out. A moment afterwards she heard a pistol shot and turned just in time to see Mrs. Bradley rise to her feet, stretch her arms imploringly towards her husband and advance a step towards him. As she did so the fiend took more careful aim; the doomed woman closed her eyes, and the second bullet crashed through her forehead. The clerk at this moment came in, but Bradley chased him out. He then walked quickly to his wife's body, pushed it with his foot to be sure that life was gone, and raised the pistol to his own head and fired. The bullet grazed his head and struck the wall. A second shot was entirely successful, as he pressed the weapon firmly to his right temple and fired. His body fell to the floor like a log. A little later a frantic young man naned Frederick Mann rushed in, kissed the face of the dead woman, and then assailed that of the murderer with his fists. He became so violent that he had to be led away. He was a warm friend of Mrs. Bradley, and acted as her escort to and from her work at night while her husband was serving a term of a year in the penitentiary for embezzlement. Bradley had become insanely jealous of Mann, and this is supposed to have been the provocation for his crime. Mann is a merchant, and connected with a reputable business firm.

Legislatures have failed to deal with this awful crime so dangerous to women, for the reason that the murderer places himself beyond the reach of punishment when he takes his own life. Something might be done, however, to give it a special brand of infamy. The criminal's portrait, properly labeled, might for instance be placed in some murderers' gallery, to remain there forever, or the old English expedient of burying the body at the X-roads with a stake through it might be tried. Or a special graveyard might be assigned somewhere in the state for the burial of all such wretches, with a design upon it appropriately horrible. Let the crime of murder and suicide be made the most infamous upon the whole calendar, and let the infamy be made perpetual. It would have a restraining and wholesome effect.

PUBLIC OPINION.

The soft winter has made life more tolerable for the poor, but it has not softened the hearts of the coal companies. In order to keep up prices they are stopping work in the mines.—Philadelphia Record.

The Legislature of Alabama is legislating to secure immigration. When Alabama learns that immigrants do not like to risk their fortunes in communities where civil rights are often denied, and where freedom does not exist, a change may come.—Rochester Democrat and Chronicle.

We suppose the professional workingmen of New York who ordered out on strike the poor horse car drivers and conductors are satisfied with their work. There should be a law to punish these rattle-brained agitators who will not work, and who are not willing that any one else shall work.—Troy Telegram.

It has occurred to somebody that David B. Hill will be only forty-nine in 1892. It should be remembered, however, that that was exactly the age at which Aaron Burr retired from the eventful arena of American politics, so that there is but cold comfort for David B. surrounding the fact stated.—Chatham Republican.

"No member of Cleveland's Cabinet will survive the wreck, with perhaps the exception of Secretary Whitney," is the opinion of the Boston Traveller. Indeed it will be difficult for the average citizen to remember, a year hence, the names of those now distinguished, but soon to be extinguished, statesmen.—Hartford Post.

Word comes from Washington that the German government has ordered one of its military officers to look up our navy and coast defenses and report what they amount to on paper. It will not take him long to make an inventory of Boston's fortifications and guns. Nevertheless, Uncle Samuel has always known how to get guns and men to fire 'em off whenever he has been stumped to fight.—Boston Globe.

Bismarck has asked for a conference with the United States on the Samoan question, and is evidently willing to come to an amicable adjustment of the difficulties. It was quite absurd all along to suppose that two intelligent nations like Germany and the United States should come to blows over an island in the Pacific to which neither has any claims except by consent of the natives.—Providence Journal.

Instead of punishing the drunkard by making him, or, as it happens in nine cases out of ten, his family or friends pay a fine, the fine should be inflicted upon the person who sold him the liquor. The trouble is, however, to find out who made the man drunk. How would it work to assess the fines upon the whole body of licensed liquor dealers, and let them be responsible for finding out who in particular is to blame?—Springfield Union.

Democratic statesmen in Texas think the murder of Clayton, in Arkansas, was a very bungling political job. In Texas, when there is a contest over returns, a committee proceeds to quietly hang the Republican witnesses in advance of official investigation, and little is ever said or heard about it outside of the state. A thousand Republican witnesses could be slyly hanged in Texas without a ripple of the national excitement caused by the assassination of Colonel Clayton.—Binghamton Republican.

THE LIFE CURRENT.

Deprive the vegetable world of moisture and it pales, withers and dies; the whole earth becomes parched, and desolation pervades the landscape. Deprive the human system of pure blood and health is impossible, disease is inevitable. The skin becomes charged with repulsive humors, the lungs loaded with foreign secretions, fevers ensue, and, unless speedily arrested, death follows. Renew to healthy action the liver, the great blood-purifying gland, with Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and health flows through every avenue, restoring every organ to vigor. All druggists.

COMMON AIR.

The breath of life is conveyed to every part of the human lungs by means of a system of fine vessels called the bronchial tubes. When these are clogged up by an accumulation of mucous, so that breathing is very difficult, especially after any exertion, a person has the leading symptoms of Asthma or Phthisic. Besides this the tubes are often reduced to much less than their natural diameter by spasmodic contraction; often nearly suffocating the sufferer. Whether the case is of long standing or not. Dr. David Kennedy's Cherry Balsam is the most efficacious known remedy. It at once loosens the mucous matter, and causes it to be ejected by a free and easy expectoration. The Balsam in such cases should be taken in larger doses than for a common Cough, and no harm is done if some vomiting results. Take particular notice that if the disease is complicated with a dyspeptic state of the stomach Kennedy's Favorite Remedy must be used to correct the digestion. The case must be very severe that will not rapidly improve under this treatment.

THE REV. GEO. H. THAYER, of Bourbon, Ind. says: "Both myself and wife owe our lives to SHILOH'S CONSUMPTION CURE." Sold by Frederick J. R. Clark.

I have been a sufferer from catarrh for the past eight years. Have tried a number of remedies advertised as "sure cures" without obtaining any relief. I had resolved never to take any other patent medicines, when a friend advised me to try Ely's Cream Balm. I did so with great reluctance, but can now testify with pleasure that after using it for six weeks I believe myself cured. It is a most agreeable remedy—an invaluable Balm.—Joseph Stewart, 624 Grand-avenue, Brooklyn.

PUT THIS IN YOUR SCRAP-BOOK.

"It takes the tusks of 75,000 elephants a year," says an exchange, "to supply the world's piano-keys, billiard-balls and knife-blades." It takes many times that number of Dr. Tutt's Liver Pills to supply the world's demand for them. Sound sleep, good digestion, buoyant spirits, and fine appetite are some of the results.

The Old Doctors

Drew blood, modern doctors cleanse it, hence the increased demand for Alteratives. It is now well known that most diseases are due not to over-abundance, but impurity of the blood, and it is equally well attested that no blood medicine is so efficacious as Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

"One of my children had a large sore break out on the leg. We applied simple remedies, for a while, thinking the sore would shortly heal. But it grew worse. We sought medical advice, and were told that an alterative medicine was necessary. Ayer's Sarsaparilla being above all others, we used it with marvelous results. The sore healed and health and strength rapidly returned."—J. J. Armstrong, Weimar, Texas.

"I find Ayer's Sarsaparilla to be an admirable remedy for the cure of blood diseases. I prescribe it, and it does the work every time."—E. L. Pater, M. D., Manhattan, Kansas.

"We have sold Ayer's Sarsaparilla here for over thirty years and always recommended it when asked to name the best blood-purifier."—W. T. McLean, Druggist, Augusta, Ohio.

"Ayer's medicines continue to be the standard remedies in spite of all competition."—T. W. Richmond, Bear Lake, Mich.

★ BRIGHT'S DISEASE. ★

A Ten-Year-Old Child Saved After the Failure of Four Physicians.

My little girl, ten years of age, was taken sick in March, 1888, with scarlet fever. When recovering she took a severe cold, which developed Bright's Disease of the Kidneys. Her ankles, feet and eyes were terribly swollen, she had a burning fever, and all the symptoms of an aggravated case of Bright's Disease. Four of our best physicians attended her, but without success, and

Her Life was Despaired of.

But a mother's love and prayers surmount all difficulties, and I determined to try Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, made at Rondout, N. Y. This was a last resort, and I hoped, although my little daughter's case was a very severe one, that the Favorite Remedy would do for her what it had done for others whose condition had not been, seemingly, as hopeless. How happy I am that I determined upon this course—for an improvement was at once perceptible. The fever left her—her appetite improved—she gained six pounds in a short time, and one by one the well known and dreaded symptoms of the disease left her. Words fail to express my gratitude and I cannot too earnestly recommend the Favorite Remedy. It was and is due entirely to the Favorite Remedy, which was the only medicine taken after her case was abandoned by the physicians.

Mrs. Laura A. Kempton, West Rutland, Vermont.

The diseases that follow Scarlet Fever, Measles, Diphtheria and various other complaints often leave behind them sequellas of the most obstinate and dangerous character. To expel all traces of such disorders, tone up the various organs, and fill the veins with pure and nutritious blood, use

NEWSPAPERS AND JOURNALISTS.

New Paper in Athens, Greene Co.—Concerning Albany Correspondents—Personal.

Athens has a new paper—the News. H. A. Greene is the editor.

The Rhinebeck Gazette, under Editor Rhodes' management, is a bright, cultured, newsy, clean weekly. The Gazette is a credit to Rhinebeck.

We believe the Register is the only paper in Newburgh, or along the Hudson River, which has an Albany correspondent.—Newburgh Register.

Guess not. THE FREEMAN has a special correspondent at Albany.

James Bennett is now one of the editors of the Port Jervis Union. He has been employed on the Gazette, of that village, for several years.

The Editor of the Journal is enjoying a visit from his father, R. B. Taylor, who, at the age of 79 years, was able on Wednesday to make the journey from his home amid the Berkshire hills, by a circuitous route, to Ellenville. He is the last survivor of a family of 15, 13 of whom lived to adult years. The late R. Baxter Taylor, first editor of the Journal, was the youngest of the number.—Ellenville Journal.

The Poor Mail Service.

By almost every mail we are receiving letters of the same purport as that printed below from subscribers who claim that the Press does not reach them regularly, and sometimes not at all. These complaints have been on the increase of late. All that we can say is that the paper is promptly and regularly put into the Post Office here, and there is no reason why it should not reach its subscribers promptly and regularly. We do not know where the fault lies. Certain it is that never during the many years that the present proprietors have been connected with the publication of the Press have we had such trouble in getting the paper into the hands of subscribers as during the past three years; and never before had so many complaints as within the last two months. It is as provoking to us as we know it must be to our subscribers and readers.

"Cover for his whiskers; why, what does he want a cover for his whiskers for?"

"To keep the wind from whistling through them."

When "Pa" came home "Ma" told him what little "Johnny" had said about the "wind whistling through his whiskers." A short time after the rapid whizz of a shingle was heard.

A LADY'S CHANCES OF MARRYING.

Every woman has a chance of "catching a husband," but it is conceded that young ladies between twenty and twenty-five years of age are more likely to draw the matrimonial prizes. However, it is not an unusual thing to hear of the marriage of a lady who has passed the three-quarter century mark, yet, how can a woman, weak, dispirited, enervated and tormented by diseases common to her sex, hope to become a happy wife and mother? Of course she cannot; yet by the magic aid of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, all these obstacles are swept away. As a powerful, invigorating tonic, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription imparts strength to the whole system, and to the womb and its appendages, in particular. For over-worked, "worn out," "run-down," debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop girls," housekeepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, it is the greatest earthly boon, being unequaled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

ALLEGED ASSAULT ON A COACHMAN.

General Opinion Appears to be that Decker Was Thrown Out of the Carriage.

People here still show considerable interest in the matter of the assault, as claimed, upon Leonard Decker, coachman of William R. Sheffield, of Saugerties. Joseph DeGraff paid a visit to the place where the team was found at the Shufeldt house and traced footsteps from the place where the man had been thrown from his wagon, across the lots to the house of the farmer of William M Hayes. He found blood in several places. This investigation, coupled with the fact that a man who said his name was Decker rapped at the door of this house, makes it clear that Decker, after being thrown out of the wagon, was so confused that he left his team and went across the Lowlands instead of following the road back to Kingston. Isaac Roosa, of Kingston, on the afternoon when Decker took the team from the Eagle Hotel, says he was looking out of the window of his office, near by, and saw the team come out of the drive-way of the hotel and turn toward Fair-street. He does not know Decker, but he saw the team when it was first brought to the Eagle Hotel, and noticed the tails of the horses were very muddy. He was then told that it was Sheffield's team. When the team, later in the afternoon, was driven out and turned toward Fair-street, Roosa noticed that the tails of the horses were still muddy, and wondered why the coachman had not taken better care of the horses.

KINGSTON PHILHARMONIC SOCIETY.

A Successful Rehearsal Held at the City Hall Last Night.

There was a fair attendance at the rehearsal of the Kingston City Philharmonic Society, last night, at the City Hall. Professor Hulslander conducted the singing. Several numbers were practiced. The first was a pretty English glee, in C major by Sir Henry Bishop, entitled "What Phrase Sad and Soft." It begins with a tenor solo, then follows a soprono solo, a duet between the soprano and alto, a quartette and chorus. The second, a comparatively new one, by Roeckel, a popular French song writer. It is a four-part song, "Madelime." The third, a chorus for female voices entitled "Old German Shepherd's Song," by Kienzl, and fourth, a humorous fugue by Caldicott entitled "Little Jack Horner." There will be another rehearsal next Wednesday night.

No Quorum Present at the City Hall on Wednesday, Consequently No Business.

The Board of Health of this City was troubled with the same old complaint yesterday afternoon that it has experienced before. There was no quorum present, and consequently three members of the Board who put in an appearance had their journey to the City Hall in the cold for naught. These members were C. P. Ridenour, Jefferson McCausland and Dr. George C. Smith. Health Officer Loughran and Sanitary Inspector Ten-Broeck were present. It was stated that the other members of the Board were unavoidably absent. One was in New-York, another was ill, and a third could not attend on account of a wedding in his family.

ICE CROP 'LONG SHORE AND INLAND.

What was Done To-day—The Outlook for Work To-morrow—Notes.

The low temperature that has prevailed along the Hudson River during the past 48 hours has caused ice companies and a small army of laboring men to rejoice. Ice has formed rapidly all the way between Rhinecliff and Albany. Between Hudson and Troy the work of marking, and, in instances, of cutting and storing ice was begun to-day.

Bright and early to-morrow morning, despite the prediction made by the Weather Bureau this forenoon that the weather will be warmer inside of 12 hours, a large force of men and boys will commence work. A number of the companies have decided to harvest night and day until their ice houses are filled.

Special dispatches to THE FREEMAN this afternoon from the principal ice gathering points along shore state that the ice is generally of excellent quality though the cakes do not measure so much in thickness from three to eight inches as that gathered in previous years on or before February 7. As a rule the ice between Tivoli and Albany averages seven inches, and in places it is 10 inches in thickness.

The work of harvesting has been in full blast to-day in the Catskill and Shawangunk ranges of mountains. Cakes housed this afternoon were fully 13 inches in thickness. On lakes, ponds and streams along the river and inland tier of counties many tons of choice ice are being cut.

The fact that for a distance of nearly 50 miles along the Hudson ice will commence to be stored, to-morrow, causes business men to take a much more brighter view of the trade situation than they have for the past month or more. In round numbers $500,000 are expended by the companies, large and small, between Marlborough and Troy, in gathering the winter's crop. It is true that the outlook for harvesting ice between Rhinecliff and Fishkill, where several of the largest houses are situated, is still very dubious, yet the circumstance that a fine yield seems to be assured between Glasco and Troy, is a matter for congratulation to all concerned.

ICE NOTES.

The ice harvest in the Catskill Creek began on Monday.

Farmers along the Wallkill Creek are securing excellent ice.

Ice men say that there is many a slip between the ice and a crop.

The ice below the ferry at South-Rondout is four inches in thickness.

The Mohonk Lake ice houses are filled with ice nine inches in thickness.

It is said ice can be put in modern ice houses at a cost of 18 cents a ton.

A horse was driven on the River at Hudson yesterday. It was hitched to a "marker."

A gang of Rondout men will commence cutting at Four Mile Point to-morrow morning.

Jacob Corn, of West-Saugerties, has filled his ice house with clear water ice cut from quarry holes.

Pilot George Gage said that the ferry-boat Transport encountered two-inch clear water ice in the Hudson River between Rondout and Rhinecliff on its first trip this morning.

The Rondout Creek is open from its mouth to a point opposite the engine house on the "Island Dock" of the Delaware & Hudson Canal Company. In the cuts between the coal docks, running north and south, the ice is from five to nine inches in thickness. If the present cold weather continues Philip Hoffman will begin the filling of his brewery ice house on Monday.

THE COLD SNAP STOPS NAVIGATION.

A dispatch from Newburgh to THE FREEMAN to-day stated: Cold weather continues unabated. The ice thickens rapidly. The Newburgh & New-York line of steamers will make their last trip to-night. They are the only steamers running.

STATE NORMAL SCHOOL, NEW-PALTZ.

Interesting Exercises and Social Events During the Winter Commencement.

The closing rhetorical exercises of the New-Paltz Normal School were held on Tuesday afternoon, January 29, and were creditable. A feature of the Commencement exercises were the public lessons given by teachers in the two departments of the training school. On Friday afternoon the pupils of the Intermediate Department gave a literary programme. The members of the Phi Kappa Pi Society held their first open meeting the same afternoon. The Normal Chapel was filled with friends. Essays were read. In the evening the Second School Sociable of the term was held and proved pleasant and profitable. On Monday afternoon public lessons were given in the Primary Department.

FLAGS PRESENTED TO SCHOOLS.

A notable event occurred in the history of the public schools of Hudson, last evening. The occasion was the presentation of American flags to the schools by the members of R. D. Lathrop Post, No. 138, G. A. R. The exercises were held in the Opera House, which was crowded with people. There were 23 handsome flags presented. They were received by the members of the Board of Education and by them given in charge of the representatives of school classes. The presentation speech was made by General N. M. Curtis, Commander of the New-York State Department of the G. A. R., and the response was made by Captain John V. Whitbeck, President of the Board of Education. The representatives of the classes, who received the flags, also made suitable remarks, and one of them, a girl, recited effectively appropriate lines eulogizing the Stars and Stripes. The occasion was in all respects memorable and patriotic.

NEW LODGE ROOM IN KINGSTON.

The Comfortable Quarters of Franklin Lodge, Knights of Pythias.

The new lodge room of Franklin Lodge, Knights of Pythias, in the Crosby building, Kingston, is large and commodious. The ceiling is 21 feet high, the room 58 feet long and 45 feet wide. There are 21 windows, with a large circular window in the center on the easterly side. The floor has been covered with 400 yards of Hartford body brussels carpet, of a pattern and color agreeable to the eye. The decorations of the walls and ceiling have been made in oil, by a member of the society. They consist of well-executed figures of a battle of Knights, coats of arms, and Knights in armor life-size. The center-piece of the ceiling is a painting of white lilies, emblematic of the order. There are pictures of altars with open Bibles resting upon them representing the three degrees. Upon one is a Bible placed within an olive wreath. A large transparency displays the name of the Lodge. The windows have been painted with the colors of the order, the design being in the form of a clover leaf. On one side of the room are the words: "Franklin Lodge, organized at Kingston March 31, 1870." Platforms have been erected as stations for the Chancellor Commander, Prelate, Vice-Chancellor and Past Chancellor. The room is lighted by a chandelier and 32 gas jets. Two waiting rooms and a paraphernalia room have been added. The Hall will be dedicated February 19.

Does Not Take Much to Excite Pearl-Street.

There was "a sensation" on Pearl-street, Kingston, one night this week. A young man mistook a private house for his boarding house and tried to enter it with a latch-key. The lord of the mansion, armed with revolvers and ammunition, came to the door and convinced the intruder of his mistake.

NELSON STEPHENS' END.

HE COMMITTED SUICIDE IN ALBANY THIS MORNING.

The Ex-Mayor of this City was Penniless—He Locked Himself in a Room in a Hotel and "Turned on the Gas"—The Facts Related.

For to those overwhelmed the night seems long.—Appollodorus.

The special correspondent of THE FREEMAN, at Albany, telegraphed as follows, this afternoon:

IN THE HOTEL BECK.

"Nelson Stephens, formerly Mayor of Kingston City, was found dead in the Hotel Beck, this morning. He was penniless."

"TURNED ON THE GAS."

"He went into the hotel at 2:30 o'clock, this morning, and was shown a room. He closed it tightly and turned on the gas."

DESPONDENT AND OUT OF WORK.

"He was despondent, having been discharged from employment on the canal works, February 2."

HIS FAMILY DISPOSSESSED.

A press dispatch to THE FREEMAN stated: "He had been discharged from the Department of Public Works and his family had been dispossessed from a house on Clinton-avenue."

A SKETCH OF THE DECEASED.

Nelson Stephens came to this City from Rockland County, where he had been engaged in the manufacture of brick. He followed the same business here in a yard which he purchased near Steep Rocks. Later on he sold it to Mains & Frederick. Then he bought another yard, a short distance north of Washington Point. He was elected an Alderman from the Third Ward and served one term. In the spring of 1886 he was elected Mayor on the Democratic ticket. Before his term expired he sold out his interest in the brick-yard to Manchester & Streeter, and engaged in the same business on a yard that he hired at Castleton. This venture proved a failure, and he returned to Rondout.

PROMISED A POSITION BY DEMOCRATS.

During the recent Presidential election he worked for the Democratic Central Committee, being promised a position in Albany if Hill were elected. On December 15 he moved his family to Albany. He secured a house at 411 Madison-avenue. He found employment in the State Canal Department.

IN OTHER DAYS.

In more prosperous days Mr. Stephens spent money with a free hand.

HIS FAMILY.

He leaves a wife and four children in needy circumstances.

A dog on Fair-street, Kingston, goes by the name of "fool dog." The name has been given the animal because of its persistent attempts to do foolish things. It will run at street cars and bite the back platforms. It tries to seize hold of the wheels of wagons. Teamsters "lay" for this dog with a long whip and exercise their ingenuity to abate the nuisance, but the dog is cute enough to avoid the blows and is rarely injured.

It is announced that a "young respectable lady" in Poughkeepsie will bring suit against parties who thrust into her lap a note requesting her to leave a hall there where an invitation party was in progress on Thursday evening.

Mrs. Emile Schubert, of Glenham, has brought suit for $3,000 damages against Ernest Schubert, of the Glenham store, for ordering her out of the store and kicking and choking her and otherwise injuring her bodily. The defendant is a brother of Mrs. Schubert's husband, and he denies all the charges.

The prizes offered at the first exhibition of the Hudson River Poultry, Dog and Pet Stock Association, in Newburgh, are as follows: Highest scoring barred Plymouth Rock; highest scoring Brown Leghorn; highest scoring Black or White Minorca; highest scoring Langshan; highest scoring Houdon; highest scoring Game; highest scoring Black Spanish and Andalusions.

The rock to which a chain was attached during the war of the Revolution to prevent vessels going up the Hudson River will have to be removed in making excavations for the suspension bridge in the Highlands. It will be taken out entire and preserved either at West Point, Washington's Headquarters, Newburgh, or in the rooms of the Historical Society in New-York City.

A dispatch from Troy to THE FREEMAN, to-day, stated: Charles M. Austin, ex-Treasurer of the Bussey & McLeod Stove Company, of this City, who left, last December, leaving a letter to the firm, in which he admitted taking $10,000 of the Company's money, has settled with the Company, and a civil action begun against Austin by the Company has been discontinued. Austin is traveling for a Western firm.

A dispatch from Newburgh to THE FREEMAN, to-day, stated: To-day was sentence day in the County Court here. This is the first Court term of Judge Beattie, who was elected last fall. He to-day sentenced three prisoners for five years each in Sing Sing for burglary, another burglar got three years and another one year in the Albany Penitentiary. A deaf and dumb man, convicted of burglary, was sent to the Elmira Reformatory. A prisoner convicted of grand larceny was sent to Sing Sing for three years.

A dispatch from Troy to THE FREEMAN, this afternoon, stated: "T. Richard Livingston, said to be a lawyer and a former resident of Brooklyn, was arraigned before a United States Commissioner, yesterday, and held for the United States Court in $1,000 bail, on a charge of extorting $6,000 from David R. Howland, a farmer, at Saratoga Lake. Howland, it is said, accidentally opened a letter belonging to another person, bearing a name similar to his own and sent to him by mistake."

An Orange County woman, who is somewhat addicted to the use of liquor, came to Newburgh on Saturday with two small children. She was on her way to New-York City to visit relatives. In Newburgh she met friends and they had drinks together. By the time she reached the Hudson River Railroad station at Fishkill she was probably too drunk to board the train and was arrested by an officer. A carriage was procured to take the mother and children to the lock-up. The cries of the children interested people in the case and after the mother and children had been placed in the lock-up kind hearted people had them removed to a hotel. Police Justice Rogers, of Fishkill Landing, spent two hours at the hotel on Sunday forenoon making an examination into the case and after giving the woman some good advice allowed her to proceed to New-York City.

An interesting celebration occurred at the residence of Mrs. Sarah Drew Barrett, Carmel, one day recently. The occasion was in honor of Mrs. Barrett's birthday, the old lady being 109 years of age. Numerous relatives and friends were present to help make glad the festive occasion. Many ancient relics were exhibited, among them being a piece of figured cotton cloth, spun and woven, by the hands of one of Mrs. Barrett's ancestors over 200 years ago. A quaint tea kettle, priceless old china and pieces of silver, little the worse for their 12 and 13 decades of active service, were used on the table at which Mrs. Barrett so happily presided. Out of 12 children, six are living, the eldest being nearly 70 years of age. Great-great grandchildren play about Mrs. Barrett's knee. The old lady is in the possession of all her faculties and promises to live many years longer. "At all events," said she quaintly to a prematurely aged guest, who was present at the anniversay, "I shall not die young."

The banquet to be given in the Delevan House, Albany, on Wednesday evening, February 13, by the Holland Society, of New-York, will be an event in the history of the direct descendants of the old Dutch families living there and along the Hudson River. Among those who are expected to grace the occasion with their presence are: Ex-Judge VanVorst, of New-York City; Comptroller Edward Wemple, Mayor T. Low Barhydt, Schenectady; A. T. Clearwater, of Kingston, a Vice-President of the Society; Hon. John VanSchaick, of Cobleskill, and many others. Prominent among the members of the Society is the Hon. Robert B. Roosevelt, United States Minister to the Hague. The dinner will probably bring about one of the most distinguished gatherings of the representatives of the old Dutch families ever held in Albany.

A NARROW ESCAPE AT GLASCO.

Three Men Barely Saved From Being Drowned in the Hudson River.

The correspondent of THE FREEMAN at Glasco writes: "A narrow escape from drowning by breaking through the ice near here yesterday afternoon occurred. The McCarty brothers and Martin Griffin started to cross the Hudson River at Turkey Point. The ice was pretty solid, but there were treacherous places here and there into one of which the three men broke through. Griffin scrambled out without getting much of a soaking, but his companions were not so fortunate. The ice broke all about them and it was soon evident to Griffin that unless help was soon obtained the men could not survive. The attention of a Polander named Enoch Pachesky was attracted finally by the men's cries for help and he hurried to the spot. He brought with him a pole with which Griffin and the Polander pulled the exhausted men from the icy water. They had been underneath 20 minutes, and at first it was supposed they could not be resuscitated. At last reports, however, both men were doing nicely."

SAYS AN ANGEL TOLD HER WHAT TO DO.

The Case of a Young Woman in Schoharie Co. Which Has Attracted Attention.

The case of Flora France, 22 years old, daughter of Austin France, a resident of Seward village, has attracted much attention there and elsewhere in Schoharie County, and has caused people who believe in the faith cure theory to feel exultant.

Miss France is now nearly well and strong, though it is only a little while ago that she was at death's door. She and her friends say that her recovery is due to the instructions she received in a vision. After she had been ill a long time, and for the space of two years had been unable to retain food in her stomach an angel appeared unto her and told her what course she should pursue, at the same time stating that if she obeyed the instructions implicitly her bodily ailments would speedily disappear. Miss France arose from her bed and was weighed. She scarcely tipped the beam at 50 pounds. Then she gave thanks and ate a hearty supper.

She hasn't seen any more angels, and doctors don't care to say anything about the case.

WANTED: BETTER ROADS

IN ULSTER COUNTY AND IN THE CATSKILL MOUNTAINS.

A Plea that Meets with Favorable Responses in Certain Localities—A Division Which Does not Work Well—Advice and Suggestions.

So much power has custom over certain minds.—Virgil.

The following article upon country roads, from the Philadelphia Press, will be read with interest by the people of Ulster County and the Catskill Mountains, where so many thousands of people spend the summer:

GOVERNOR BEAVER'S PLEA.

Governor Beaver's plea for better roads meets with a favoring response from the press inside and outside of Pennsylvania. Pennsylvania is no worse off than most of the other states in the matter of public roads, and is better off than some. Bad public highways are a National evil. The wealth, invention, and care that would have gone to public roadways under other conditions have been diverted to the construction and perfection of the roadbeds of railways. Governor Beaver struck a popular chord when he asked for better roads in this State, and the Legislature will do no wiser and more politic thing than to carry out his suggestions and make a beginning, at least, of the long-delayed and long-needed reform in the public roads of Pennsylvania.

WHAT GOVEROR AMES HAS SAID.

Governor Ames, of Massachusetts, has urged the necessity of the same improvement in his annual message, and an organized movement in behalf of road legislation is in progress in Northern New-Jersey. The plan proposed by the residents about Elizabeth, Rahway, Plainfield and other villa towns in the same neighborhood, is to have certain main roads turned over to the County Board of Freeholders or to some commission, and then roads are to be built, maintained and managed by the County authorities. The New-York Evening Post recently made a like suggestion, urging that a separation be made between the control of the trunk highways in a county and the intersecting roads. The former would be turned over to the county authorities and paid for by county taxation, and the latter continued under the present township management.

STATE, COUNTY AND TOWNSHIP ROADS.

This division, which looks well on paper, has been in force for years in Ohio without in the least improving its "mud roads." These are divided into state, county and township roads, as they are in two or more counties, in one, or in a township. With work done by the day system, however, this division of management left the roads as they were. The only good roads in Ohio have been made under a free-pike act, which permits a county by a special election to levy a tax in addition to the road tax for the construction of free turnpikes. In counties where this has been done, and where a sharp gravel furnishes a good roadbed, Judge W. R. Lawrence reported in 1883 that the value of farms had been increased full 25 per cent. by these roads.

ROAD BUILDING REQUIRES TRAINED SKILL.

No change, however, will work which does not recognize, first, that road building requires trained skill, and, second, that the present plan of letting farmers "work out" a road tax is antiquated. "Good road construction in Europe," says the Engineering News, "enlists the services of the best engineers the country can afford." These men conduct all the work, hire all the labor, and pay out all the money. A. J. Cassatt's term as Roadmaster a few years ago shows what can be done by an engineer of the first rank, who devotes himself to the task of making good roads under present conditions. But every road district cannot have a Mr. Cassatt. Without such direction a vast deal of labor is expended on roads without the slightest result. Paying taxes in kind is a relic of barbarous conditions. It ought to be abolished. Of course, if the farmers prefer the system of working out their road tax to a system of good roads, American country roads will remain in their present condition. The tax will continue to be paid, its aggregate amount will be enough to give good roads, and it will all be wasted. The roads will remain what they are—the worst in any civilized country.

REFORM NEEDED.

It ought, however, to be possible in the eastern counties of this State, which are filling up with country seats big and little, to introduce a reform. To be effectual this must require:

PREREQUISITES.

First—The payment of all road taxes in money.

Second—The employment of a skilled engineer to oversee the work both of the county and the townships.

Third—The selection of the main routes on which good roads should be both built and maintained by county authority.
